First. Section 1 of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. The judicial power of the State shall be vested in the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, in a Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals, District Courts of Appeal, superior courts, such municipal courts as may be established in any city or city and county, and such inferior courts in the Legislature may establish in any incorporated city or town, township, county or city and county.

Second. Section 4 of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the superior courts in all cases in equity, except where an action is founded on justices' courts; also, in all cases at law which involve the title or possession of real estate, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine; also, in all such probate matters as may be provided by law; also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases, where a question of death has been rendered, wherein an appeal has been taken to said Supreme Court prior to the forty-fifth day after the adoption by the people of this section by amendment. The said court shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters and proceedings pending before a District Court of Appeal, which shall be ordered by the Supreme Court to be transferred to itself for hearing and decision, at its own discretion. The said court shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices shall have power to grant writs of habeas corpus to any part of the State, upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, other than being held in custody pursuant to any writ, warrant, or process in a criminal case or action, or for a violation of a criminal statute of this State, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the Supreme Court or before any District Court of Appeal or before such justice thereof, or before any superior court in the State, or before any judge thereof.

Third. Section 4b of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4b. The District Courts of Appeal shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the superior courts (except in cases in which appellate jurisdiction is given to the Supreme Court) in all cases at law in which the superior courts are given original jurisdiction; also, in all cases of forcible or unlawful entry or detainer (except such as arise in municipal, or in justices' or other inferior courts); in proceedings in insolvency; in actions to prevent or abate a nuisance; in proceedings of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, usurpation of office, removal from office, contesting elections, eminent domain, and in such other special proceedings as may be provided by law; also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases prosecuted by indictment or information, except where judgment of death has been rendered, wherein an appeal has been taken to a District Court of Appeal prior to the forty-fifth day after the adoption by the people of this section by amendment.

The said courts shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters and proceedings pending before the Supreme Court which shall be ordered by the Supreme Court to be transferred to a District Court of Appeal for hearing and decision. The said courts shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of his appellate district upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the District Court of Appeal of his district, or before any superior court within his district, or before any judge thereof.

Fourth. Section 4c of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4c. The Supreme Court shall have power to order any cause pending before the Supreme Court to be heard and determined by a District Court of Appeal, and to order any cause pending before a District Court of Appeal to be heard and determined by the Supreme Court. The order last mentioned may be made before judgment has been pronounced by a District Court of Appeal, or within fifteen days in criminal cases, or thirty days in all other cases, after such judgment shall have become final therein. The judgment of the District Courts of Appeal shall become final therein upon the expiration of fifteen days in criminal cases, or thirty days in all other cases, after the same shall have been pronounced. Provided, that in any criminal case where a judgment has been pronounced by a District Court of Appeal after this section has been adopted by the people by amendment such criminal cause shall not be transferred for hearing to the Supreme Court but the court of criminal appeals shall have power, in such instances, to order such cause to be transferred to the Court of Criminal Appeals for hearing and determination within thirty days after such judgment shall have become final in such District Court of Appeal.

The Supreme Court shall have power to order causes pending before a District Court of Appeal for one district to be transferred to the District Court of Appeal for another district, or from one division thereof to another, for hearing and decision.

Fifth. A new section to be numbered 4d of Article VI is hereby added to said Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 4d. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of a chief justice and four associate justices. The court shall always be open for the transaction of business. The presence of three justices shall be necessary to transact any business, except such as may be done at chambers and the concurrence of three justices shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment. The chief justice may convene the court at any time and shall be the presiding justice of the court when so convened. The concurrence of three justices present at the argument shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment; but if three justices so present do not concur in a judgment then all the justices qualified to sit in the cause shall hear the argument; but to render a judgment a concurrence of three justices shall be necessary; provided, however, that if less than the five justices shall sit at the argument of any cause and it be stipulated that the absent justices may participate in the decision then and in that event the concurrence of three justices shall be sufficient to render a judgment irrespective of whether any one or more of such justices was not present at the argument. In the determination of causes all decisions of the court shall be given in writing and grounds of decision shall be stated. In case of the absence of the chief justice from the place at which the court is held, or his inability to act, the associate justices shall select one of their own number to perform the duties and exercise the powers of the chief justice during such absence or inability to act. Upon the adoption by the people of this section the Governor shall forthwith appoint one person to act as chief justice and four persons to act as associate justices of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The term of office of each justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be twelve years from and after the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding their election or selection; provided, that the term of office of the chief justice of said court first appointed by the Governor hereunder shall be and shall continue until the first Monday after the first day of January following the sixth general election next after his appointment and the term of office of two of said associate justices first appointed by the Governor hereunder shall be and continue until the first Monday after the first day of January following the second general election next after their appointment and the term of office of the remaining two associate justices hereunder shall be and continue until the first Monday after the first day of January following the fourth general election next after their appointment. After the appointment of the first chief justice and the first four associate justices of the Court of Criminal Appeals by the Governor and the qualifying of such appointees, vacancies thereafter occurring in the office of justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be filled and successors to such justices so first appointed shall be selected and elected, including the right of any justice to succeed himself, in the manner now provided by section 26 of Article VI of this Constitution for the selection and election of justices of the Supreme Court and filling of vacancies in the office of justice of the Supreme Court.

The salary of the chief justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals and the salaries of the associate justices of the Court of Criminal Appeals shall at all times be the same as the respective salaries of the chief justice and the associate justices of the Supreme Court. Whenever any justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals is for any reason disqualified or unable to act in a cause pending before it, the remaining justices may select one of the justices of a District Court of Appeal to act pro tempore in the place of the justice so disqualified or unable to act.

Sixth. A new section to be numbered 4c of Article VI is hereby added to said Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 4c. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the superior courts, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases presented by indictment or information, wherein an appeal has been taken on or after the forty-fifth day from the adoption by the people of this section. This said court shall also have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition and habeas corpus and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the State, upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in custody, custody pursuant to any writ, warrant, or process in a criminal case or action or fine or execution of a criminal statute of this State, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the Court of Criminal Appeals or before any District Court of Appeal or before any judge thereof or before any superior court in the State or before any judge thereof. Said court shall have the power to adopt rules for the regulation of the procedure before said court and for the manner in which appeals may be taken and perfected to said court, provided that until the adoption of such rules appeals may be taken to said court in the same manner that appeals in criminal cases are now taken to the Supreme Court. In all matters arising under the provisions of section 146d of the Penal Code where an appeal in habeas corpus proceedings is allowed to the Supreme Court or an application for hearing in the Supreme Court is allowed, such appeal shall be taken to and such application for hearing shall be made in the Court of Criminal Appeals instead of said Supreme Court. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall hold regular sessions for the hearing of cases at the Capital of the State, at the City and County of San Francisco or the city of Los Angeles, and at the city of Fresno, the times to be fixed by an order of said court and special sessions at either of the above named places or at any other place in the State of California, as the interest of justice may require if such place or any be specified by the justices thereof. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall be a court of record.

The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeals from the judgments of appellate departments of the superior courts in criminal cases where the validity of any law or statute of the State, or any municipal, county or city ordinance is directly involved and for a conviction of which the case was originally instituted, provided the validity of such law, statute or ordinance was raised before the appellate department of the superior court; and further provided that on such appeal the Court of Criminal Appeals shall not determine any other question except the validity of such law, statute or ordinance.

It shall be the duty of the justices of the Court of Criminal Appeals to report to the Legislature at the opening of each regular session any questions, doubts or inconsistencies in the laws relating to crimes, the punishment of crimes, procedure or evidence in criminal cases, that has come to their attention, and also any proposed changes in such laws which, in their opinion, should be made in the interests of justice.

In any case where the defendant has been acquitted of a crime which he is divided into degrees or of which has necessarily included within itself some crime or more lesser or other crimes of which the defendant could have been convicted upon his trial the Court of Criminal Appeals, if on other facts in the case appears in the record, and if it determines that the evidence was sufficient to justify the conviction and further determines that the evidence was sufficient to justify a conviction of said crime in a lesser degree or to justify a conviction of a lesser or other crime necessarily included within the one the defendant was convicted on committing and for which he could have been convicted upon his trial, may modify the judgment by reducing the conviction to such crime in a lesser degree or to such lesser or other crime. In such event, the judgment shall be affirmed as modified and no new trial shall be had of the cause.

Seventh. A new section to be numbered 4f of Article VI is hereby added to said Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 4f. The salaries of the Justices of the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be paid by the State at the times and in the manner that the salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court are paid.

The clerk of the Supreme Court, the chief deputy clerk of the Supreme Court, and the deputy clerks of the Supreme Court shall respectively be the clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals, the chief deputy clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals and the deputy clerks of the Court of Criminal Appeals. The clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals must perform such duties as are now prescribed by law to be performed by the clerk of the Supreme Court and such additional duties as may be required of him by the rules and practice of the Court of Criminal Appeals. The Legislature shall provide for the speedy publication of such opinions of the Court of Criminal Appeals as such court may deem expedient, and all opinions shall be free for publication by any person. The reporter and assistant reporters of the decisions of the Supreme Court shall be the reporter and assistant reporters of the decisions of the Court of Criminal Appeals. All reports of decisions of the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be published in the same manner and under the same conditions as the reports of the decisions of the Supreme Court, and all provisions of law relative to the publication of the reports of the Supreme Court now in effect or hereinafter adopted shall apply to the publication of the reports of the Courts of Criminal Appeals. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have power and authority to appoint and employ during its pleasure such phonographic reporters, assistants, secretaries, and other employees as it may deem necessary for the performance of the duties and exercise of the powers conferred by law upon said court and the members thereof and to determine the duties and fix and pay the compensation of all such officers and employees. All salaries and expenses incurred under the provisions of this section shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of said court when approved by the order or orders of said court and audited by the Board of Control. The State shall supply proper rooms in which to hold the court and for the accommodation of the officers thereof together with furniture, fuel, lights, and stationery suitable and sufficient for the transaction of business and if such things are not provided by the State the court, or any three justices thereof, may direct the clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals to provide such rooms, furniture, fuel, lights, and stationery and the expenses thereof certified by any three justices to be correct shall be paid out of the State treasury for which expenses a sufficient sum shall be annually appropriated out of any funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Eighth. Section 10 of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10. Justices of the Supreme Court, and justices of the Court of Criminal Appeals, and of the District Courts of Appeal, and judges of the superior courts may be removed by concurrent resolution of both houses of the Legislature adopted by a two-thirds vote of each house. All other judicial officers, except justices of the peace, may be removed by the Senate on the recommendation of the Governor; but no removal shall be made by virtue of this section unless the cause thereof be entered on the Journal, nor unless the party complained of has been served with a copy of the complaint against him and shall have had an opportunity of being heard in his defense. On the question of removal the ayes and noes shall be entered on the Journal.

Ninth. Section 18 of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 18. The justices of the Supreme Court and of the Court of Criminal Appeals, and of the District Court of Appeal, and the judges of the superior courts and the municipal courts shall be ineligible to any other office or public employment than a judicial office or employment during the term for which they shall have been elected or appointed, and no justice or judge of a court of record shall practice law in or out of court during his continuance in office; provided, however, that a judge of the superior court or of a municipal court shall be eligible to election or appointment to a public office during the time for which he may be elected, and the acceptance of any other office shall be deemed to be a resignation from the office held by said judge.

Tenth. Section 19 of Article IV is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 19. No Senator or member of Assembly shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, hold or accept any office, trust, or employment under this State; provided, that this provision shall not apply to any elective office nor to any office which may be filled by election by the people.

Eleventh. Section 23 of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 23. No person shall be eligible to the office of a justice of the Supreme Court, or of the Court of Criminal Appeals, or of a District Court of Appeal, or of a judge of a superior court, or of a municipal court, unless he shall have been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the State for a period of at least five years immediately preceding his election or appointment to such office.

Twelfth. Section 24 of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 24. No justice of the Supreme Court, nor of the Court of Criminal Appeals, nor of a District Court of Appeal, nor any judge of a superior court nor of a municipal court shall draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall make and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths, that no cause in his court remains pending and undetermined that has been submitted for decision for a period of ninety days. In the determination of causes all decisions of the Supreme Court, of the Court of Criminal Appeals and of the District Courts of Appeal shall be given in writing, and the grounds of the decision shall be stated."

Communication.

The following communication, signed by 413 persons, was, on request of Senator Crittenden, received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STOCKTON, CALIFORNIA, Tuesday, May 21, 1935.

Senator B. S. Crittenden, Senate Chambers,
California State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Subject: Senate Bill No. 447.

DEAR SENATOR CRITTENDEN: We, the undersigned 413 citizens of Stockton and San Joaquin County, are definitely against Senate Bill No. 447, because this bill is extremely unfair, and can only be of small and unjustified benefit to publicly owned wharfingers. It is certainly contrary to the interests of the State as a whole. The business of privately owned terminals is already subject to complete regulation of the Railroad Commission, and such terminals pay taxes to the Federal, State and local governments. Publicly owned terminals pay no taxes and are not regulated by the Railroad Commission.

The charge has been made that Encinal Terminals has been guilty of certain unfair trade practices. These charges are entirely unfounded. The activities of Encinal Terminals being subject to the complete scrutiny of the Railroad Commission, no single unfair trade practice or other illegal act can occur without the immediate condemnation of that body, yet no complaint has ever been made to that body that any of the Encinal Terminals activities are unfair or illegal, or violate any of the provisions of the Public Utilities Act.

We expect you, as Senator from this district, to at least make known to the entire Senate body that you have received this petition, so that they will be fully informed that Stockton as a whole is not in favor of this bill.

Yours very truly,

CITIZENS OF STOCKTON AND SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY
A. CARRAL, 320 South Sierra Nevada Street, and 412 others.

Recess.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

Sec. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into effect immediately. The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

A disastrous forest fire occurred in November, 1933, completely denuding approximately seven square miles of the mountainous watershed above the towns of La Crescenta, Montrose and La Canada, in Los Angeles County, thereby permitting boulders, debris and dirt to wash down upon the populous communities lying below said watershed. The immediate construction of debris dams at the mouths of various canyons below said burned-over watershed and the construction of channels below said debris basins are necessary in order to protect the lives of persons living in said communities and to protect the homes and other property from destruction. The Seventy-third Congress of the United States adopted an act known as "H. R. 7599," appropriating $5,000,000 to be loaned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the repair or reconstruction of flood control systems and other property damaged or destroyed by floods or other catastrophes in the year 1933 and in the months of January and February, 1934, and said corporation has agreed to loan a portion of said funds to the Los Angeles County Flood Control District for the construction of said debris basins and channels in said area, provided the said district will agree to award contracts for the construction of said work to those persons only possessing certificates of compliance with the National Industrial Recovery Administration rules, and in the employment of labor to give preference to veterans with dependents. The district is further authority to agree to said provisions unless they are amended in such a way as to make said money available at once with which to perform said work prior to the rainy season of 1935-1936, it is necessary that this act go into effect immediately.

Amendment No. 1.

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended, between lines 20 and 21, insert the following:

"The name of the incumbent shall appear first upon a list of all candidates for any office and if two or more positions are to be filled at the same time and more than one incumbent is running, the name of each of the incumbents shall appear in alphabetical order for that Assembly district which is lowest in numerical order of any Assembly districts in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for each succeeding Assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

Prayer.

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Newton E. Moats:

The Secret.

I met God in the morning
 When my day was at its best,
 And His presence came like sunrise,
 Like a glory in my breast.

All day long the Presence lingered,
 All day long He stayed with me,
 And we sailed in perfect oneness
 O'er a very troubled sea.

Other ships were blown and battered
 Other ships were sore distressed,
 But the winds that seemed to drive them
 Brought to us a peace and rest.

Then I thought of other meetings
 With a keen remembrance of each,
 When I too had missed the meetings
 With the Presence left behind.
 So I think I know the secret
 Learned from many a troubled way:
 You must seek Him in the morning
 If you want Him through the day.

Oh, God, we seek Thee every morning
 Be with us here this day.
 In the Father's Name, we pray.

"SEC. 4. Prospecting permits for oil and gas. Exception. The Surveyor General is hereby authorized, upon the payment to him of fifty cents per acre, for each acre in area embraced within the boundaries of the lands proposed to be prospected and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, to grant to any person or association of persons, who are residents of the State of California and citizens of the United States and who have declared their intention of becoming such, or corporations ninety per cent of whose stockholders are citizens of the United States a prospecting permit, which shall give the exclusive right, for a period not exceeding two years, to prospect for oil or gas, upon not exceeding six hundred forty acres of land wherein such deposits of oil or gas belong to the State and are not within any known geological structure of a producing oil or gas field, upon condition that the permittee shall begin drilling operations within six months from the date of the permit, and shall within one year from and after the date of the permit, drill one or more wells for oil or gas to a depth of not less than one thousand feet each, unless valuable deposits of oil or gas shall be sooner discovered, and shall, within two years from date of the permit, drill for oil or gas to an aggregate depth of not less than two thousand feet unless valuable deposits of oil and gas shall be sooner discovered. The Surveyor General may, if he shall find that the permittee has been unable with the exercise of diligence to test the land in the time granted by the permit, extend any such permit for such time, not exceeding two years, and upon such conditions as he shall prescribe. Any permittee whose permit was in good standing on October 1, 1933, and who has within four years from the date of the permit performed the drilling conditions set forth in this section and has expended fifty thousand dollars or more on said permit and has not made a discovery of valuable deposits of oil or gas within that period, and desires to further prospect, then his permit shall be extended until June 1, 1936. Whether the lands sought in any such application and permit are surveyed or unsurveyed the applicant shall, prior to filing his application for permit, locate such land in a reasonably compact form and according to the legal subdivisions of the public land surveys if the land is surveyed; and in an approximately square or rectangular tract if the land be an unsurveyed tract, the length of which shall not exceed two and one-half times its width, the land to be surveyed by the Surveyor General at the expense of the applicant for a permit in such form as the Surveyor General shall deem to be in the best interest of the State; provided, however, that in case of prospecting permits and leases to river beds, lake beds, overflowed tide and submerged lands, the width or length of the prospecting permit or lease along the shore line measured on an east and west or north and south line shall not exceed one-half mile.

Preference rights established by creation of monuments and posting of notices. Recording notices. If the applicant shall cause to be erected upon the land on which a permit is sought a monument not less than four feet high in some conspicuous place thereon, and shall post a notice in writing on or near said monument stating that an application for permit will be made within thirty days after the date of posting said notice, giving the name of the applicant, the date of the notice, and such a general description of the land to be covered by such permit as to location, courses and distances from such monument and such other natural objects and permanent monument as will reasonably identify the land, showing the amount thereof in acres, he shall during the period of thirty days following such marking and posting, be entitled to a preferential right over all those to a permit for the land so identified; provided, however, that applicant shall, as a part of this application for a permit, show that within two days after the posting of the said notice, he recorded a copy of the same in the county recorder's office of the county in which the said land is situated.

Marking boundaries. Exception. Permits covering floodlands and rights of littoral owners. The applicant shall within ninety days after recording a permit mark each of the corners of the tract described in the permit upon the ground with substantial monuments, so that the boundaries can be readily traced on the ground, and shall post in a conspicuous place upon the lands a notice that such permit has been granted and a description of the land covered thereby; provided, however, that where the boundaries of the land sought to be prospectured or developed under lease are wholly or partially in river or lake beds, overflowed tide and submerged lands, the notice shall be conspicuously posted on a monument or object a part of the land as possible and shall specifically describe the area to be covered by the permit and distances so that the limits of the area can be easily determined; provided further, however, that in no case shall permits or leases be granted covering tide, overflowed or submerged lands fronting on an incorporated city, or for a distance of one mile on either side thereof; provided further, however, that in case of an application for a permit or a lease covering tide, overflowed or submerged land by anyone other than the littoral or riparian proprietor, said littoral or riparian proprietor shall have six months within which to file an application for a permit or lease. If said littoral or riparian proprietor fails to comply with the requirements of this act and its rules and regulations made in pursuance hereof, his preferential rights shall thereupon cease and forever be terminated, and the applicant shall be permitted to proceed with his application; provided further, that after the approval of this act and prior to the first day of September, 1929, no monument shall be erected, or notice posted upon or notice recorded in relation to any tide, overflowed, or submerged lands of this State, or application for permit presented to or granted by the Surveyor General for or in relation to any tide, overflowed or submerged lands of this State as provided in this section; provided further, that no permit to prospect or drill for oil or gas in or upon any tide, overflowed or submerged lands shall ever be granted by the Surveyor General upon an application made between the date of approval of this act and the first day of September, 1929. Nothing contained in the two provisos last preceding this clause shall, however, be deemed or construed to prevent any littoral owner from exercising the preference right given by the terms of this section, nor as affecting the rights under this act of the holder of any permit or lease heretofore issued and now outstanding nor of any applicant therefor who has fully complied heretofore with the provisions of this act, nor as recognizing, ratifying or validating any rights so claimed.

SEC. 2. Section 5 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5. Lease. Royalty. Upon establishing to the satisfaction of the Surveyor General that valuable deposits of oil or gas have been discovered within the limits of the land embraced in any permit, the permittee shall be entitled to a lease for one-fourth of the land embraced in the prospecting permit; provided, that the permittee shall be granted a lease for as much as one hundred sixty acres of said lands, if there be that number of acres within the permit. The area to be selected by the permittee shall be in compact form and if surveyed, to be described by the legal subdivision of the public land surveys; if unsurveyed, to be surveyed by the Surveyor General at the expense of the applicant for lease in accordance with rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Surveyor General, and the lands leased shall be conformed to and taken in accordance with the legal subdivisions of such surveys; deposits made to cover expense of survey shall be deemed appropriated for that purpose, and any excess deposit may be repaid to the person or persons making such deposits or their legal representative. Such lease shall be for a term of twenty years upon a royalty of five per centum in amount or value of the production and the annual payment in advance of a rental of one dollar per acre, the rental paid for any one year to be credited against the royalties as they accrue for that year, with the right of renewal as prescribed in section 8 hereof; provided, however, that a lease granted to a permittee whose permit has been extended until June 1, 1936, shall be upon a royalty of twelve and one-half per centum of the amount or value of the production, instead of five per centum. No additional piers, islands, or other drilling structures shall be erected on any unfilled tide, overflowed or submerged lands under any lease hereafter granted under this section. The permittee shall also be entitled to a preference right to a lease for the remainder of the land in his prospecting permit at a royalty of not less than twelve and one-half per centum in amount or value of the production, and under such other conditions as are fixed for oil or gas leases in this act, the bonus and royalty to be determined by competitive bidding or fixed by such other method as the Surveyor General may by regulations prescribe; provided, that the Surveyor General shall have the right to reject any and all bids."

Prayer.

For Strength to Finish.

O God, Thou knowest the duties that lie ahead of us, the puzzling questions that confront us, and the weaknesses that so easily beset us in the closing days of a legislative session.

Draw our hearts to Thee with the power of Thy love, that nothing may be too hard to do or to endure if it serve Thee and the needs of Thy people.

Strengthen our wills that we may not compromise to expediency nor seek the easier, rather than the better way; reinforce our moral natures that we may not give way to weariness. Help us to finish with honor, as workmen that need not be ashamed.

And keep us diligent. May no carelessness in these days of rush undo the good work thus far accomplished. Give strength to our tired bodies, brighten our dulling minds, and quicken our finer spirits, that rightness may endure to the end, that our faith may conquer and our vision perish not—for Thy Name's sake we pray. Amen.

Communication.Referring to Assembly Bill No. 2365.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal :

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 27, 1935.

*Hon. Andrew R. Schottky, Senate Chamber,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.*

Subject: A. B. 2365, as Amended in Senate May 24, 1935.

DEAR SENATOR SCHOTTKY: You direct attention to the fact that this measure contains no statement declaring when it shall take effect and request an opinion on the question of whether or not under such circumstances it would take effect immediately and whether or not it would be subject to the referendum.

In our opinion it is an act which levies a tax and as such is one which the Legislature could put into immediate effect under section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution.

However, there being nothing in the bill declaring when it shall take effect, we believe the bill is to be read in connection with section 323 of the Political Code, which declares that

"Every statute, unless a different time is prescribed therein, takes effect on the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature which passed such statute."

In view of these provisions of said section 323, we are of the opinion that if Assembly Bill No. 2365 is adopted in its present form it would take effect on the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of this session of the Legislature and not before.

In such case we are also of the opinion that it would be subject to the referendum.

The referendum provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution do not indicate any differentiation between various types of bills which are or may be subject to referendum except as between bills which in fact take effect immediately or which in fact do not take effect until the ninety-first day after final adjournment.

We see no reason why a referendum petition filed within 90 days after final adjournment of the Legislature could not be made to apply to and to postpone the operation of a tax measure if in fact the latter does not by its terms take effect prior to the ninety-first day after the final adjournment.

Very sincerely yours.

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

On motion of Senator Jespersen, it was ordered that Senate Bill No. 1123 and Assembly Bill No. 2365 be considered jointly at the afternoon session.

Singing in the Rain.

Oh Lord, we praise Thee for the joy of hard work. We are weary toilers but not despondent toilers. We are not "galley slaves scourged to the dungeon" of our servitude, but free men happy in our task.

We thank Thee that this is so. Help us to sing during the heat of the day. If we can't sing we will whistle. We respond not to the rasp and wear of a swan song or broken instruments, but to the clear trumpet call of duty. A call not to riot but to march!

During these last days, as worthy men at a worthy task, may we, as we sing, plow straight and deep, no matter how long the furrow; and may we cover the field before night falls on our labors.

Hear our prayer, Oh Lord, as Thy workers and as servants in the soil of public welfare. Amen.

Communication.Opinion of Legislative Counsel.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 27, 1935.

*Honorable George J. Hatfield,
Lieutenant Governor of California,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.*

DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD: You have asked us what vote is required to adopt a motion to have a bill read a second time after the Senate has considered the bills on second reading file on the daily file.

In our opinion a two-thirds vote of the Senate is required to have a bill read a second time at such a stage of the proceedings.

We base this opinion on Rule 33 of the Senate wherein it is stated that:

"precedence shall be given in the consideration of bills in the following order: Second reading file and third reading file, unless otherwise ordered by unanimous consent or by a two-thirds vote of the Senate."

Moreover, if it is desired to suspend the rules, Rule 76 states that "a rule or order may be suspended temporarily by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Senate." It would appear therefore that a two-thirds vote is required in any case.

It is not clear whether Rule 33, in saying that the order may be changed "by a two-thirds vote of the Senate" means a two-thirds vote of those present or of the members of the Senate. In our opinion "of the Senate" means of the entire membership, because "the Senate" consists of its entire membership. The Constitution, Article IV, section 5, states that "The Senate shall consist of 40 members" and it would seem that the term is so used in Rule 33 as above quoted.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.
By THOS. S. DABAGH, Deputy.

Approved: FRED B. WOOD.

Report of Special Committee.Rush Griffin Execution.

The following report by Special Committee to investigate the execution of Rush Griffin, was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

The Special Senate Committee named by Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield, upon the passage by the Senate on April 26, 1935, of a resolution authorizing such a committee to investigate the execution of Rush Griffin at San Quentin Prison for first degree murder while his appeal was pending on April 5, 1935, consisting of Senator Harold J. Powers of Modoc County, Chairman, and Senator Leonard J. Difani of Riverside, and Senator William F. Knowland of Alameda, sitting May 10 and 11, 1935, in the Assembly Room of the State Building in the city of Los Angeles called and heard testimony from the following witnesses:

Mr. Richard F. Byrd, deputy public defender of Los Angeles County; Superior Judge Isaac Pacht; Superior Judge Charles Locke of Los Angeles County, before whom Rush Griffin was tried; Mr. Frederick H. Vernon, the public defender of Los Angeles County; Mr. Arthur Moore, deputy county clerk of Los Angeles County, assigned to Department 44 of the Superior Court, the department in which Rush Griffin was tried and sentenced; Mr. Charles K. Boardman, the county clerk of Los Angeles, in charge of the criminal division; Mr. L. P. Thompson, county clerk of Los Angeles County; Mr. Hugh P. Connelley, deputy clerk of the Supreme Court; Mr. Charles S. Broad, detective lieutenant of the Los Angeles police department, in charge of the investigation of the Rush Griffin case.

The committee conducted a hearing at San Quentin Prison, May 20, 1935, and called and heard testimony from Warden James Holohan, the warden; Roger Smith, and the assistant secretary, Clinton T. Doffy.

The committee found the following facts:

That Rush Griffin, a Negro boy at the age of 20 years, was charged, tried and convicted of murder in the first degree in the superior court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, in Department 44 thereof, with Judge Charles Fricke presiding, and Deputy County Clerk Arthur Moore acting as clerk of said department;

That Richard F. Byrd, deputy public defender of Los Angeles County was attorney for the defendant; that a judgment of death was pronounced on January 21, 1935, setting date of execution April 5, 1935, by Judge Charles Fricke, and upon the pronouncement of judgment and notice of appeal was given to counsel by Richard Byrd, attorney for the defendant. That later on the same day, the attorney for the defendant filed his grounds for appeal, accompanied by his request for the phonographic reporter's notes. That a minute order was duly entered in the records of the superior court of the county of Los Angeles granting the notice of appeal. That on January 20th, the deputy county clerk of Los Angeles County, Charles K. Boardman, addressed a letter to the warden of San Quentin in which he enclosed the death warrant as required by section 1217 of the Penal Code of the State of California, and said letter referring to the death warrant also contained the following statement:

"This case is now on appeal," with the closing paragraph, "please acknowledge the receipt of the death warrant." That said letter was received at San Quentin, at a time that Warden James Holohan was hospitalized and Julian Allen was acting warden, and the same was initialed and the receipt of the death warrant was acknowledged by Mr. Clinton T. Doffy, but no mention of the pending appeal was made in the letter of acknowledgment. That the warrant was placed in the safe, as is the custom, and the letter was placed in another file in the warden's office, and the letter file was not consulted by the warden prior to the execution, and the notice of appeal was overlooked by the assistant clerk of the warden's office, as contained in the letter of January 29, 1935. That the defendant did not mention directly nor through his spiritual advisor, Reverend Mundelake that his case had been appealed; that the clerk's transcript and reporter's transcript of the case were delivered to Arthur Moore, clerk of Department 44 of the superior court, the department in which R. Griffin was tried, on the nineteenth day of February, 1935; that the reporter's transcript was delivered to defendant's counsel, Richard Byrd, on February 19th; that the clerk's transcript was left on the clerk's desk until April 3, 1935, when the same was delivered to the defendant's counsel, just two days before execution date; that the date of execution of Rush Griffin was forgotten by the defense attorney; that the clerk's transcript was filed in the Supreme Court on April 8, 1935, three days after the execution.

Your committee found that it was the practice in the county clerk's office of Los Angeles, to have the clerks of the respective departments handle all papers on appeal from judgments rendered in their respective departments. This manner of handling papers made it possible for the Griffin papers to stay on the desk unnoticed. It was also discovered that no one in the county clerk's office checked the clerks to be sure that papers were filed in the Appellate Courts when required. Your committee found that this practice has been abandoned, as a result of the Rush Griffin case. All appeal papers are being handled by the clerks in the office.

Your committee also found that in the public defender's office in Los Angeles County, a docket was kept of all the activities in every case, but no one was directly responsible in checking the dockets daily to ascertain what should be done in any case. The lack of responsibility was manifest in the Griffin case, because no one had checked to be sure the appeal papers were on file.

Your committee finds that under our present laws, execution in a death penalty case is stayed by an appeal; that assuming an appeal is perfected, the Supreme Court would not know of the appeal in less than fifteen days from the pronouncement of judgment; that there is no definite responsibility upon any one to notify the warden that an appeal has been filed; that it has been the practice for the Supreme Court Clerk to write an informal letter to the warden informing him of the appeal.

Your committee finds that all along the line under our present laws, there is too much opportunity for human error to enter. The committee finds that where the death penalty is imposed, almost all of the cases are appealed, and the witnesses questioned in this case are of the opinion that there should be an automatic appeal in all death penalty cases.

Based upon the facts herein recited, your committee finds that the existing provisions of law are woefully inadequate with reference to the procedure for appeal of cases involving the death penalty. This is principally true for two reasons:

1. There are too many steps in the procedure where the possibility of human error enters and may result in the loss of the stay of execution which the appeal is intended to give. The Rush Griffin case is an example of this.

2. In the procedure prescribed for the appeal in death penalty cases there are certain gaps, places where the duty is by law imposed on no one to take the necessary step. As an example of this, there is no burden placed upon anyone, whether or not connected with the Appellate Court, to notify the warden of the State prison in which the defendant is incarcerated when transcripts have been filed on appeal. The committee is informed that the Clerk of the Supreme Court has for several years taken upon himself the obligation of doing this, but there is in the applicable procedure no requirement that he do so.

Based upon the facts and circumstances attendant upon the execution of Rush Griffin and upon the existing procedure governing appeals in death penalty cases, your committee respectfully submits the following recommendations for changes in the existing procedure:

1. That the applicable provisions of law be amended to afford an automatic appeal by the Appellate Court in all cases in which the penalty of death is imposed.

2. That the date of execution be set by the trial judge upon the receipt by him of the Appellate Court's order affirming the death penalty, and not as now provided when sentence is pronounced by the trial judge.

3. That the commitment of the defendant to the State prison and the death warrant be two separate and distinct documents, the commitment to be forwarded with the defendant after pronouncement of the death penalty and the death warrant to be made out and the date of execution determined on receipt by the trial judge of the Appellate Court's order affirming the death penalty.

4. That the warden to be directed by law to execute the death warrant only when it is signed by the trial judge and attested by the clerk under the seal of the court.

Communication.

Opinion of Legislative Counsel.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, May 28, 1935.

Honorable George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor of California.

State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Subject: Bills Recommended by the Governor to Be Emergency Bills.

MY DEAR GOVERNOR: You have requested our opinion on whether or not it is necessary that a letter from the Governor stating that a bill which makes an appropriation is an emergency bill the passage of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill, must be received by the Senate and read prior to the passage of that bill by the Senate.

In our opinion, it is not necessary that such a letter be received and read prior to the passage of such bill. It is sufficient that the Governor make such a recommendation.

Section 34 of Article IV of the State Constitution, in reference to this matter, provides as follows:

"Until the Budget Bill has been finally enacted neither house shall place upon final passage any other appropriation bill, except emergency bills recommended by the Governor, or appropriations for the salaries, mileage and expenses of members of the Legislature."

You will note that there is nothing in the language of the Constitution which requires that this recommendation on the part of the Governor be in writing. In our opinion, it is sufficient compliance with the section if the Governor actually makes the recommendation, and it is not necessary that the same be made in writing nor that a letter setting out such recommendation be received by the Senate prior to the passage of the particular bill.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD,

Legislative Counsel.

By JNO. J. HAMLEN, JR.
Chief Deputy

Upon the receipt of said notice by said board, it shall be its duty, by resolution, either to consent to the proposed sale of the property as set forth in said notice, or withhold its consent thereto. In either event the said board shall, within five days after its action in the premises, transmit to said tax collector, a certified copy of its said resolution. Failure of the board to adopt some resolution or to transmit the same within the time prescribed, however, shall not make either void or voidable, a sale made pursuant to such consent.

If said board of supervisors shall approve said proposed sale as aforesaid, and upon receipt of the copy of said resolution by the tax collector, it shall be the duty of the tax collector to give written notice to the party to whom the land most last assessed nearest before the sale, of such intended sale, by mailing said notice to him, postage thereon prepaid and registered at his last known post-office address, at least twenty-one days before the date of said intended sale. The board of supervisors may, in their discretion, direct the tax collector to publish the notice of the intended sale once in a newspaper published in the county, or if there be no such newspaper then in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. Said notice shall contain the time and place of said intended sale, a description of the property to be sold, sufficient for identification, together with a statement that if redemption of said property is not effected according to law, prior to said date of sale, that no right of redemption shall cease.

At the time and place fixed for said intended sale, if no redemption of said property to be sold has been effected according to law, prior to said date so fixed for said intended sale, the tax collector shall sell and convey said property at private sale on the day and hour fixed therefor, or at any time not more than three months thereafter, for the price and the terms fixed in said notice to the board of supervisors, in lawful money of the United States.

We would first know the leading of Thy Divine Law before we attempt to create other laws. Help us to discern Thy truth and to know Thy will that our acts here may help, not hinder, the public good. We would be partners with Thee today as we transact the business of the daily life. May all that is done here be done solely to Thy Glory. For Thy Kingdom's sake. Amen.

742. In order to carry out the policy of this chapter, the director is empowered to enter into marketing agreements with manufacturers, processors, producers, associations of producers, distributors, and retailers of manufactured dairy products for any dairy product.

Nothing in this chapter contained shall control or otherwise affect any educational or other agency of the State engaged in teaching or research relating to agriculture.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Swing, adopted.

Remarks.

The following remarks, offered by Senator Knowland, were, on motion of Senator Deuel, ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate.

The subject matter contained in Assembly Bill No. 2365 will be far-reaching in its effect upon the people of California. I am told by the proponents of the bill that they have the votes necessary to assure its passage. I do not wish the bill to pass, however, without pointing out some of the dangers in this type of legislation. In discussing this subject, I wish to appeal not to prejudice but to reason.

Second only to that power vested in a sovereign government to declare war and conscript men therefor, is the power of taxation. If we are to maintain an equitable tax system, it is essential that the taxing power of the State be not abused.

I believe that the use of the taxing power as provided in this bill is unsound from the point of view of good public policy. There is wide disagreement among the proponents of the measure as to what they hope to accomplish. Some of them frankly admit that they want to use the taxing power to drive the so-called "chain stores" out of business entirely. The bill as originally introduced in the Assembly carried a much higher tax and unquestionably would have gone a long way toward achieving this aim. Others, however, took the more practical attitude that the people were not ready for such drastic action and amended the tax downward so it would appear that it was merely a revenue measure. I believe that they will all admit, however, that if the precedent is once established, at a later session they may be able to amend the tax upward to achieve their original aim.

There is much talk against outside capital. Is the great American California is a part of the Union and capital flowing into the State from other States is not "foreign money." No small amount of the great development that has taken place in California was a result of capital that flowed into the State from outside our borders.

The inequities that exist in our economic system should be corrected by proper legislation but not by the use of the taxing power as the measure here proposed. If it is wrong for one particular business to pay wages below a certain level it is equally wrong for an independent merchant to violate the principle of a lowest wage standard. The correction of the evil that exists in this or that business should apply to all business and not to any single branch.

If these firms and others are making unworkable profits, the proper way to control this problem is through an increased corporate income tax that would apply to all business. I shall vote to support the program of the Joint Tax Committee calling for an increase in the bank and corporation net income tax from two to four per cent. If we are aiming at the profits they make, a net income tax is the proper way to control the situation.

This modified bill establishes the precedent by which future legislation, by amending the tax upward, can destroy chain stores through the use of the taxing power. In the meantime, however, its chief result will be to diminish the cost of living for the people of California. We are not following a Socialist policy. From present indications, it appears that foodstuffs will be exempt from the excess tax in order to reduce the price of food to the people of the State. By levying the tax under Assembly Bill No. 2365, which has no authority to act on profits, it will have a tendency to increase the cost of food to our people.

I wish to call attention of the members of this Senate to a logical development that may result from the increase in cost of food. There is a strong possibility that some future Legislature will demand that food be treated as public necessity and as such that it be distributed by the State at cost.

At such a time, this proposal that we are asked to enact today will gradually turn out to be a two-edged sword. The precedent established will be used to take the independent business man out of existence in order to give the State a monopoly.

If you grant the right of the State to abuse its taxing power in such a manner, it is but another step to the time when private business as such will be destroyed through the use of the taxing power and a complete system of State Socialism will be set up. I have no quarrel with those measures now before the Legislature stood for measures leading to the taking over of all private business by the State; it is their philosophy of government and they have a right to advocate it. However, it is not my philosophy. I believe that the American system can be maintained and developed in the interests of the whole people. This can not be done if we permit the structure to be destroyed piece by piece.

There are certain conditions in our economic system that will be necessary to correct and regulate through sound legislation. This proposed legislation, however, with its abuse of the taxing power, is not the way to achieve the desired results. I firmly believe that to use the taxing power as proposed in this bill will ultimately prove as harmful, in the precedent that it establishes, to those that are advocating the measure as they hope it will be to those at whom it is aimed.

Remarks.

The following remarks, offered by Senator Crittenden, were, on motion of Senator Biggar, ordered printed in the Journal.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate:

This bill has been ably opposed, in general, on the ground that it inclines towards Socialism and is against, and a detriment to, individual development.

I favor this bill for the reason that it is directly conducive to individual development, and is contrary to the theory and policy of an economic Socialistic policy in the State of California.

Corporate monopolies are in their essence Socialistic and when they reach out in their activities and prevent individual development and thereby create dissatisfaction, Socialism will surely follow, because of the centralization of hundreds of activities under one head and one management. They make it extremely easy for a dissatisfied people, through their legislative bodies, to step in and take complete control under a Socialistic form of government of all private activities.

The opponents to this bill who clamor for rugged individualism fail to take into account the essential difference between the individual, the God-made man, and the artificial man who is created, protected and subsidized by government.

What we want is a government which will pass and carry out laws which will provide equal opportunities for and development of the individual, the God-made man and not a government which gives charters and gives special privilege to the fictitious and artificially created person. The latter government will result either in complete dictatorship or a Socialistic state. The other policy of development of the individual man will perpetuate happiness, freedom and individual human activities.

The chain store is developed by governmental creation of the artificial person who may live for 100 years, who has the purchasing power of a thousand persons who may use this policy ruthlessly in competition with the individual man, who may work only for 20 years and must compete in the economic struggle with such governmental agency. This situation obviously stifles competition and discourages individual development and breaks down civic community activities.

INDIVIDUAL STORES CREATE THEIR OWN MARKET.

During the past 50 years men attracted to the gold fields of the Mother Lode and the fertile valleys of our State have conquered the adversity of the prairies and plains and have made of them intensely developed communities. Every trading center has become a metropolitan area. This was accomplished by families continuing to live where they had made their money, through and by the development of small farms, small stores, banks, blacksmith shops and other institutions necessary in community life. They and their children and their children's children contributed to the transforming of prairie land into expensive property, crossroads into complex municipal settlements, together with the necessary schools, churches and various societies that go to make up community life in America. All this was necessary and is now necessary to create markets for commercial commodities and to raise taxes to carry on State activities. This wholesome economic condition was studied by the promoters of chain stores and they proceeded to incorporate under State protection and charters. They, through the purchasing power, bought at less cost than the corner store grocery. They forced producers to sell at a less price and many times at less than cost. They invested local money only sufficient to operate their place of business. They had no interest in the community other than the net profits. They contributed nothing to the reserve purchase power of the community and under such unfair monopoly the results which have taken place should have been easily foreseen and must be clear to all persons.

The investment of the dollar of net profits locally made by the store man in his home, by his family and the reinvestment of such net profits by his children's children has created the buying power of the community. The measure of tax that should be paid by such an institution, I would say, should be on a basis commensurate with and to offset the advantages of the locally invested dollar, multiplied by every transaction of a local dealer and through the period of years necessary to accumulate the local wealth.

Now, what has happened? Under the present set-up of the unfair tactics of the chain store and the use of collective corporate monopoly, the purchasing power of the community is fast becoming depleted. The corner grocery as such is a thing of the past. The individual store is gone. The boy from school has no place to start an individual business by which he may become independent and support a family. You can not take out of a community continuously its net profits and have it remain prosperous any more than you can continuously raise crops on the same piece of land and place nothing back in the land to supply the fertility necessary to grow the crops.

CENTRALIZED WEALTH NOT INJURED BY THE BILL.

The breaking up of monopolies and/or the compelling of a just tax for their special privileges does not mean that this will injure even big business. General business is now suffering because we say there is a depression and people are unable to buy. Money is in the vaults and there is no one to use it. Banks are running at a standstill because of the poverty of the communities of the State and the lack of purchasing power.

If, on the other hand, this bill and other bills tending to break down monopolies, or make them pay reasonable prices for the privileges, are put into effect, individual business again can be successful and will again contribute to local wealth. When individuals are prosperous you need not worry about the monopoly, the bank, or the financial institutions, because they will have then someone with whom to do business and someone who will be able to pay.

This bill is fair. It will injure no one who is doing a legitimate business and paying a reasonable price for the privileges he enjoys. It will tend to bring back to the communities the wealth they once had. Happiness to the individual man will follow. Opportunity to the young student springs up. Hope takes the place of discouragement and faith in the future comes into the hearts of our people.

This bill, then, is in the interests of rugged individualism and tends to give more opportunity to the man and limits a little governmentally protected monopolies which are in their essence socialistic and which will contribute eventually to doubt, deterioration and Communism.

I solicit the support of every member in support of this bill.

Communication.

During the consideration of Assembly Bill No. 2365, the following communication was read, and, on request of Senator Garrison, ordered printed in the Journal:

House of Representatives to Investigate A. R. F.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NUMBER TWO HUNDRED THREE.

WHEREAS, The Associated Press on April 16, 1935, and the New York Times of April 17, 1935, reported that a superlobby to be known as the American Retail Federation was recently formed to promote the business of chain stores throughout the United States and to influence the actions of members of Congress with reference to legislation affecting chain stores and their holding companies; and

WHEREAS, One Louis E. Kirsten, of Edson's Department Store, in Boston, Massachusetts, one Clarence O. Sherrill, who was a high-salaried vice president of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and one Harold R. Young, chief Washington representative for the National Retail Dry Goods Association, are purported to be the organizers thereof, with the understanding that with Clarence O. Sherrill will be the president and active head of said superlobby, with direct responsibility for conducting its propaganda and lobbying activities in the city of Washington, D. C., before the United States Congress and the committee thereof; and

WHEREAS, It is stated in the public press that the executive committee of this superlobby, which has been named the American Retail Federation, is to be composed of officers and directors of the principal gigantic retailing establishments of the Nation, dealing primarily in the fundamental necessities of everyday life as follows: Louis E. Kirsten, representing F. A. Edson and Company, of Boston, Massachusetts; Lessing J. Rosenwald, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck and Company; Fred Lazarus, Jr., of F. and R. Lazarus and Company, of Columbus, Ohio; Parns S. Straus, representing R. H. Macy and Company, of New York City; C. W. Kress, of S. H. Kress and Company, of New York City; Albert H. Merrill, president of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio; George M. Taylor, president of the Louis K. Liggett Company, of New York City; John A. Harford, president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, of New York City; and

WHEREAS, It is apparent that said American Retail Federation is organized for the purpose of increasing the profits of big business through lobbying tactics, designed to prevent small businesses from securing competitive opportunities, equal to those enjoyed by corporations representing vast aggregations of capital; and

WHEREAS, It is apparent that the achievement of any or all of the purposes of said American Retail Federation will result to the detriment of the farmer, the wage earner, and the consumer on the one hand, and will serve to injure the employers of labor and the laboring man on the other hand; and

WHEREAS, The said superlobby has already opened palatial headquarters in the city of Washington, D. C., and has attempted, and is now attempting, to force and coerce thousands of small retail merchants, dealing in the necessities of life, into the ranks of this superlobby, so that it may thereafter hold out to members of Congress and to others in the government that it represents a completely centralized and authentic voice for all retailers of the Nation; and

WHEREAS, The following National associations of retailers, whose executive committees and boards of directors are in almost every case controlled by representatives of large corporations, are already listed in the public press as having already offered or pledged their support to the superlobby plans of the American Retail Federation to wit: The National Association of Retail Clothiers; National Retail Dry Goods Association; National Association of Retail Grocers; National Retail Furniture Association; National Retail Hardware Association; American National Retail Jewelers Association; National Association of Retail Druggists; National Shoe Retailers Association; Limited Price Variety Stores Association, Incorporated; Mail Order Association of America, Incorporated; National Council of Shoe Retailers; National Retail Association of Music Merchants; Food and Grocery Chain Stores of America, Incorporated; an invitation will be extended this week to the International Grocers Alliance of Chicago, a corporative organization of grocers; and

WHEREAS, The gigantic sum of $750,000 has already been pledged or contributed to this superlobby by the greatest aggregation of rich and powerful department stores and chain stores of America ever brought together for the purpose of directly or indirectly nullifying the effects of the N.R.A., the A.A.A., the Sherman Act, the Clayton Act, and other antitrust laws now on the statute books of this Nation, and by propaganda and other methods inimical to the public welfare to attempt to control and influence the Congress of the United States in its legislative deliberations; and

WHEREAS, It is further reported that this superlobby, the American Retail Federation, is now proceeding upon a plan designed to force the small independent retail merchants of America, engaged in the sale of the necessities of every day life, to contribute an additional $2,000,000 annually to the funds available to this organization in its lobbying activities, and for the further purpose of permitting it to disseminate propaganda among the consumers and producers of the United States; and

WHEREAS, It is inimical to the welfare of the citizens of the United States to permit the organization and functioning of such a superlobby, designed for the purpose of intimidating and influencing members of Congress through direct and subversive lobbying activities, as well as through coercing hundreds of thousands of underpaid employees throughout the Nation to flood the respective members of the United States Congress with letters, petitions, and propaganda designed to improperly and untruthfully represent the public sentiment of the respective constituencies of said members of the Congress; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That a Special Committee of Seven, to be named by the Speaker, be created and hereby is authorized and directed to investigate the aforesaid American Retail Federation, its capitalization, its membership, its objectives, the sources of its funds, its financial connections, and its officers and agents, and to investigate the record of stock dividends, officers' salaries, profits, interlocking directorates and banking affiliations of all corporations directly affiliated with, or contributing to, the said American Retail Federation; and be it further

Resolved, For the purpose of this resolution the committee, or any subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places in the United States, whether or not the House is sitting, has recessed, or has adjourned, to require, by subpoena or otherwise, the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books and documents, to administer such oaths, and take such testimony as it deems necessary and advisable.

Consideration of Special Order—(Resumed).

Assembly Bill No. 2365, heretofore set as a special order for eleven o'clock and thirty minutes p. m., was taken up for further consideration.

Remarks.

The following remarks, offered by Senator Jespersen, were, on motion of Senator Gordon, ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

I am not concerned with the fears of the eminent gentlemen who have opposed this legislation—I know their fears are ill founded. I do wish to say that this bill will levy a tax of less than one-half of one per cent; that it will to some extent correct the situation that allows the net profit of a business conducted in a community to be sent out of the community and contribute nothing to the general welfare.

It will not destroy the chain store; it will help to restore individual opportunity to our own people. It will produce some revenue in this hour of need. It will help to control a rapidly growing monopoly, which is now endangering the social welfare, and is a very real menace to the general welfare of our State.

I am convinced that this legislation is desired by all right thinking people, which means the vast majority. In conclusion I quote the opinions of three distinguished Justices of the United States Supreme Court:

"The typical business corporation of the last century, owned by a small group of individuals, managed by their owners, and limited in size by their personal wealth, is being supplanted by huge concerns in which the lives of tens or hundreds of thousands of employees and the property of tens or hundreds of thousands of investors are subjected, through the corporate mechanism, to the control of a few men. Ownership has been separated from control, and this separation has removed many of the checks which formerly operated to curb the misuse of wealth and power.

The citizens of the State, considering themselves vitally interested in this seemingly unequal struggle, have undertaken to aid the individual retailers by subjecting the owners of multiple stores to the handicap of higher license fees. They may have done so merely in order to preserve competition. But their purpose may have been a broader and deeper one. They may have believed that the chain store, by furthering the concentration of wealth and of power and by promoting absentee ownership, is thwarting American ideals; that it is making impossible equality of opportunity; that it is converting independent tradesmen into clerks; and that it is sapping the resources, the vigor and the hope of the smaller cities and towns.

If the State should conclude that bigness in retail merchandising as manifested in corporate chain stores menaces the public welfare, it might prohibit the excessive size or extent of that business as it prohibits excessive size or weight in motor trucks or excessive height in the buildings of a city.

The State's power to apply discriminatory taxation as a means of preventing domination of intrastate commerce by capitalistic corporations is not conditioned upon the existence of economic need. It flows from the broader right of Americans to preserve, and to establish from time to time, such institutions, social and economic, as seems to them desirable."

From MR. JUSTICE BRANDEIS.

Signed also by MR. JUSTICE HOLMES.

MR. JUSTICE STONE.

Also, from Mr. Justice Cardozo, who said, "We have never yet held that government, in levying a graduated tax upon all the members of a class, must satisfy itself by inquiry that every group within the class will be able to pay the tax without sacrifice of profits."

I feel that this bill is a just measure, and respectfully ask your favorable consideration.

Prayer.

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Newton E. Moats:

On Memorial Day.

Lord God of Hosts, in Whom our fathers trusted and found their faith rewarded. Bless us here today, as we commemorate their valour and their sacrifice.

In times of conflict they were ready, if need be, to lay down their lives in the cause of liberty and righteousness. May we emulate their spirit of loyalty and sacrifice, during these difficult days of peace.

It is not enough on this Memorial Day that we only pause for a few moments in reverent memory. We would rededicate our lives and our work here in these legislative halls to the principles of freedom and brotherhood for which they gave their all.

Help us to carry on with their heroic faith. May we build upon the enduring foundations which they have laid. And may we be true to the great ideals that have made this Nation great.

Bless us here, O Lord, that those we honor today may not have lived and died in vain. For Thy Name's sake. Amen.

Remarks.

The following remarks, offered by Senator Slater, were ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate:

In making the motion that the prayer offered this morning by our esteemed Chaplain be printed in the Journal of today's proceedings, I am prompted by the beautiful and inspiring sentiments embodied therein which point so impressively to the significance of the observance of this day.

This is Decoration Day, a day of memories fragrant with the perfume of patriotic impulse and service. While of necessity in the performance of its official duties, the Senate must continue its calendar, we may nevertheless pause momentarily to pay our tribute of remembrance and affection to the Nation's honored soldier and sailor dead. The story of their love and devotion is indelibly inscribed in the book of love and memory, an imperishable record which time can not efface.

It is most fitting and appropriate that when we adjourn today this Senate should do so in full accord with the tender sentiment which Decoration Day holds for every patriotic American citizen and thereby officially recognize once more the inspiring lessons which this sacred day in American history ennobles.

I am quite sure a reconsecration to the ideals so impressively recalled by Decoration Day is certainly most to be desired and will cement the tie which binds us all into an unswerving patriotism in time of peace as well as in days of war. In paying and sincere token we hold aloft the sweet "Forget me not" charity blossom of enduring friendship, and reconsecrate ourselves to patriotic service while we remember those who served so nobly and courageously in the preservation of our great country.

Reading of the Journal.

During the reading of the Journal of Wednesday, May 29, 1935, the further reading was dispensed with, on motion of Senator Slater.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 3.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ a of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to local government.

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate Concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California at its fifty-first regular session commencing on the seventh day of January, 1935, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ a of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ a. Any county having within its territorial boundaries one or more incorporated cities or towns, may frame a charter for a consolidated city and county government, by causing a board of 15 freeholders, who have been for at least five years qualified electors of the county, to be elected by the qualified electors of said county, at a special election. Said board of freeholders may be so elected in pursuance of an ordinance adopted by the vote of three-fifths of all of the members of the board of supervisors of such county, declaring that public interest requires the election of such board of freeholders for the purpose of preparing and proposing a charter for a consolidated city and county, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this Constitution provided for city and county government; or in pursuance of a petition of qualified electors of said county as hereinafter provided; which said petition must state the name and address of a person or persons to whom notice of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent in the event that the petition shall not have the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto. Such petition, signed by 15 per centum of the qualified electors of said county, computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding general election at which a Governor was elected, praying for the election of a board of 15 freeholders, to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this Constitution provided, may be filed in the office of the county clerk. It shall be the duty of the said county clerk, within 20 days after the filing of said petition, to examine the same, and to ascertain from the record of the registration of the electors of the county, whether said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. If required by said clerk, the board of supervisors shall authorize him to employ persons to assist him in the work of examining such petition, and the board shall provide for their compensation. Upon the completion of such examination, said clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing the results of his examination, and if, by said certificate, it shall appear that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. If it appear by said certificate that said petition has not the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto, the said clerk shall so notify the person or persons whose name or names are mentioned therein, to whom the notification of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent. Whereupon the petitioners shall have 30 days from and after the date of receiving the notice of insufficiency from the clerk to present and file additional signatures. Upon the receipt of the additional signatures, the clerk shall proceed forthwith to examine the petition of additional signatures, so that such examination shall be completed within 10 days from the date of his receiving same. If it appear that the number of additional signatures added to those who have not been legally rejected upon the original petition, shall total the requisite number of qualified electors necessary as provided in this section, the clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing that said petition has been signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors, if it be in session, otherwise at the next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. Upon the adoption of such ordinance, or the presentation of such petition, said board of supervisors shall order the holding of a special election, for the purpose of electing such board of freeholders, which said special election shall be held not less than 40 days nor more than 90 days after the adoption of the ordinance electing said or the presentation of said petition to said board of supervisors. Candidates for election as members of said board of freeholders shall be nominated by petition, substantially in the same manner as may be provided by general law for the nomination, by petition of electors, of candidates for county officers, to be voted at general elections. The election shall be conducted and the ballots canvassed and result declared substantially as are other elections for county officers, except that there shall be only one election, and the 15 persons receiving the highest vote shall be declared the duly elected board of freeholders. All ties shall be broken by lot.

It shall be the duty of said board of freeholders within 180 days after the result of such election shall have been declared by the board of supervisors, to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government, and it shall prescribe the existing boundary lines of the county as the territorial limits of said proposed city and county, and propose the formation of all of the incorporated cities and towns and all of the unincorporated territory within the county into a consolidated city and county government, to be governed by said charter and to have combined powers of a city and a county, as provided in this Constitution for consolidated city and county government.

The charter proposed shall be signed by the members of the board of freeholders, or a majority of them, and be filed, one copy in the office of the county recorder, one in the office of the county clerk, and certified copies thereof duly attested by the president and secretary of the board of freeholders shall be filed in the clerk's office of each incorporated city and town in the county. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall cause said proposed charter to be published in at least two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, if there be two, or in the one such newspaper if there be but one, or if there be no such newspaper then in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the county, for at least six consecutive times; and shall also cause said proposed charter to be published for at least three consecutive times in a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in each of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, and if there be no daily newspaper printed, published and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns then, once in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated therein; provided, however, if there be no daily or weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities or towns, then said publication shall be made by posting in three public places in each of said incorporated cities or towns having no such newspaper, for at least three days. All of such publication shall be completed within 50 days of the filing of the proposed charter with the county clerk. The board of supervisors shall cause to be printed in pamphlet form, at least as many copies of such proposed charter, plus an additional 15 per cent, as there are registered electors in the county. The county clerk shall forthwith deliver to the clerk of the legislative body of each and every incorporated city or town within the county, a number of the printed copies of the proposed charter, equal at least to the number of registered electors residing in any such incorporated city or town. The county clerk shall thereupon give notice, by advertising in one and not more than two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, or if there be no such newspaper, then in a daily newspaper of general circulation in the county, and if there be a newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns, in one such newspaper of each said city or town, that copies of the proposed charter can be had at his office or at the office of the several city or town clerks, designating them, upon application. Upon the completion of the publication of the proposed charter as above required, and not later than 15 days thereafter, the board of supervisors must pass an ordinance or resolution calling a special election to be held not less than 30 nor more than 60 days thereafter or if there be a general election held within 90 days thereafter then at such general election.

Such approval may be by concurrent resolution, and if approved by a majority vote of the members elected to each house, such charter shall become the charter of such consolidated city and county and shall become the organic law thereof relative to matters therein provided, and shall supersede any existing municipal charter of the cities within the county and all amendments thereof, and shall supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to matters provided in such charter. No consolidation shall take place under the provisions of this section unless a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in every incorporated city and town in the county and in the unincorporated territory thereof, vote in favor of such consolidation, and the votes cast in each city and town and in the unincorporated territory, shall accordingly be separately tabulated to show the results.

It shall be competent, in any charter, or amendment thereof, framed under the authority given by this section, to provide in addition to those provisions allowable by the Constitution and laws of the State as follows:

1. For the merging and consolidating the cities and county into one municipal government with one set of officers, which shall include those officers required to be provided for in a county charter; for the establishment of a borough system of government for the whole or any part of the territory of said city and county, by which one or more districts may be created therein, which districts may be known as boroughs and shall exercise such municipal powers as may be granted by such charter, and for the organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of such boroughs, which organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction may provide for rural districts, with different powers and organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction from other boroughs; provided, that in the event of such establishment or creation of a borough or boroughs, as hereinabove permitted, the boundaries thereof shall never afterwards be changed or altered, nor shall the governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction of any such borough or boroughs be thereafter limited, extended, modified or taken away, unless and until the borough or boroughs affected by such proposed change or alteration of boundaries, or by the proposed limitation, extension, modification or taking away of governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction, as the case may be, shall each have consented thereto, by the vote of a majority of the electors in each and every such borough voting at an election or elections called and held for such purpose in each of the boroughs so affected.

2. For the consolidation and merging of school and high school and union high school districts into one or more school, high school and union high school district within the city and county, to be governed by one board of education and one school superintendent, and may provide separate organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction and powers for rural school districts, if any are established.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the board of education or boards shall be elected or appointed, for the qualifications, compensation and removal, and for the number which shall constitute any one of such boards.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the board or boards of police commissioners, if any, shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such boards and of the city and county police force.

5. For the manner in which and the times at which any city and county election, or borough election shall be held and the result thereof determined; and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

6. It shall be competent in any charter framed in accordance with the provisions of this section, for any consolidated city and county, and plenary authority as hereby granted, subject only to the restrictions of this article, and, in regard to the powers and duties of officers performing county functions, subject to general laws as to those functions to provide therein or by amendment thereto, for the powers and duties of all county, city and county municipal and borough officers, for the manner in which, the method by which, and the terms for which the several county, city and county, municipal and borough officers, except judges and justices shall be elected or appointed, and for their recall or removal, and for their compensation, or the fixing thereof, including judges and justices of inferior courts and for the number of deputies, clerks and other employees that each shall have, or the fixing thereof, and for or the fixing of the powers and duties, compensation, method of appointment, qualifications, tenure of office and removal of such deputies, clerks and other employees.

7. It shall be competent in any charter, or amendment thereto, framed in accordance with the provisions of this section, to provide that the city and county may make and enforce all laws and regulations, and exercise all rights and powers in respect to municipal affairs and municipal officers, and shall have all powers and rights appropriate to a county, city, and city and county subject only to the restrictions and limitations provided in such charter.

Any charter framed under the provisions of this section may provide for the termination of the tenure of office of all county officers created after the adoption of such charter by the electors of such county and prior to the approval of such charter by the Legislature.

8. No property in any city or town or territory hereinafter consolidated into a city and county shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness outstanding at the time the charter takes effect and for the payment of which indebtedness the property in such city or town or territory was not, prior to the taking effect of such charter, subject to such taxation.

In all cases of consolidation of two or more incorporated cities and towns, or of one or more incorporated cities or towns with unincorporated territory, into a city and county, assumption of existing bonded indebtedness by such city or town, or by such unincorporated territory or by any of the cities and towns so consolidating may be made by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the territory or city or town which shall assume an existing bonded indebtedness, and the provisions of section 18 of this article shall not be a prohibition thereof.

The provisions of this Constitution applicable to cities, and cities and counties, and also applicable to counties, so far as not inconsistent or prohibited in cities or cities and counties, except in the method of procedure of calling elections for the election of freeholders and the submission of the question of the formation of a consolidated city and county, shall be applicable to such consolidated city and county.

Any charter framed under the provisions of this section may be amended as provided in section 8 of Article XI of this Constitution.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal or alter in any way the provisions of section 84 of Article XI of this Constitution, providing a different method and procedure for the formation of cities and counties, wherein the initiative is taken, by a city or city and county. Nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any consolidated city and county, organized as such at the time this section takes effect. The Legislature shall enact such general or special laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and such general or special laws as may be necessary to effect city and county consolidation hereunder.

Assembly Bill No. 1129—An act amending sections 3897 and 3898 and repealing section 3774 of the Political Code, relating to the procedure for the sale of property deeded to the State in payment of delinquent taxes, if not otherwise disposed of under section 3897a or section 3897b of the Political Code, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into effect immediately.

The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

Due to the depression which has existed in the past several years many landowners have been unable to meet the taxes and assessments levied by the State, political subdivisions, agencies, reclamation, irrigation, drainage and levee districts, with the result that their lands have been sold to the State and such taxing and assessing agencies.

The heavy penalties assessed by law have made it impossible for the landowners to redeem their lands, hence thousands of acres of land have been sold for the nonpayment of such taxes and assessments, and deeds have been executed thereon to the State and such taxing and assessing agencies. That as long as such lands remain State lands the same are nonassessable for tax or assessment purposes, and the tax and assessment burden becomes heavy upon the paying lands, causing more delinquencies and losses and threatening the insolvency of many political subdivisions and agencies, and reclamation, irrigation, drainage and levee districts. The Legislature hereby declares that the welfare of the State requires that such land be placed in private ownership as promptly as possible so that such land henceforth bear its just proportion of current taxation and assessments.

Report of the Subcommittee of Committee on Civil Service.

The following report by the subcommittee of standing Committee on Civil Service was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

The Senate Subcommittee on Civil Service has carefully gone into the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 1392, the Civil Service Bill, to determine in what manner it would affect the State service and particularly State employees in the event it were enacted into law as originally presented to the Senate.

The bill had passed the Assembly and the committee originally was advised that all interested groups, and persons subject to its terms, were in favor of the bill as it came from the Assembly.

After the bill reached the floor of the Senate, the committee for the first time was advised that the bill extended its provisions to many offices of the State now exempted by the law and the Constitution from civil service. Those who would have been subject to the jurisdiction of the personnel administration included the courts, employees of the Attorney General's office, the teaching staffs in normal schools and State teachers' colleges, prison wardens and prison guards, employees of the Railroad Commission, and others specifically exempted by the Constitution. The committee, after advice that certain of these interested officers and employees had not been given a hearing, concurred in the recommendation that the bill be returned to the committee for further hearing. The subcommittee appointed to study the bill disapproved of those provisions which extended the scope of civil service to constitutionally exempted offices because of the centralization in the State Personnel Board of control over their employees. This was particularly true with respect to courts, State normal schools, prison wardens and guards, and the Railroad Commission.

In addition to the attempt to include the above named units and constitutional bodies of the State government without their knowledge, the bill also, in the opinion of the subcommittee, unwarrantedly extended the powers of State personnel administrators adversely to the interests of the State civil service employees. Among major defects found by the subcommittee and its draftsmen in this respect were:

1. Unlimited control in the State personnel administrators to reduce salaries of any and all State civil service employees by a majority vote of the Personnel Board. The subcommittee recommends that salary reductions and material change of duties of individuals be made only by a unanimous vote.

2. Abrogation of existing eligible and other lists from which people are certified for appointments to State positions as well as abrogation of existing rules and regulations, present classes and grades of positions, and the entire system now in operation. The committee amendments preserve existing eligible and lay off lists, class, grades, and rules.

3. Lack of a provision requiring that those serving a probationary period be dismissed only for truthful reasons related to the good of the service. The subcommittee has recommended the inclusion of such amendment.

4. Failure to provide that a person accepting promotional appointment from a lower to a higher position may return to the lower position in the event of dismissal, without notice or hearing, from the higher position during his probationary term. The subcommittee has recommended that those dismissed from promotional positions during the probationary period shall be entitled to be placed on the lay off list of the lower position so that promotion may not be made a means of unfairly separating an individual from the State service.

5. Unwarranted vesting of power in the State personnel administrators to make transfers, reinstatements, and classifications and through such means make possible the depriving of a person of his position. The subcommittee has recommended proper limitations so that a civil service employee can not be removed or dismissed except for cause after notice and an opportunity to be heard.

6. Unwarranted authority in the State personnel administrators with respect to leaves of absence, which also might operate to displace a man from the service without his consent or opportunity to be heard. The subcommittee has recommended that leaves of absence are to be granted only upon application of the employee affected.

7. Failure of the bill to provide for certification of persons on the general lay off list for appointment to vacancies, thus in effect apparently leaving people on the general lay off list (people who have previously served the State and attained civil service status) without legal standing. The subcommittee's amendments protect such persons in their right to be certified.

8. A drastic change in the existing law by express provision in the bill abolishing or abrogating the right of an employee even though unlawfully or unwarrantedly separated from the service from having a court pass upon the right of the employee and powers of the board. The subcommittee believes that it has corrected this defect and has preserved the rights of court action to an employee with proper limitations in favor of the State as to back pay receivable.

9. Complete failure of the bill to recognize or protect persons blacklisted in under the constitutional amendment adopted last November. The subcommittee feels that as a matter of justice to such persons that after years of service to the State they should not be removed solely for political reasons and without at least an opportunity to be heard. The recommendation of the subcommittee, however, is that any person who was so removed after the passage of the amendment should be returned to the service but without pay for the time he was not permitted to discharge the work of his position. The subcommittee is of the opinion that this will prevent hundreds of law suits and is the greatest protection to the State and the State treasury in the entire bill.

10. Repeal by indirection of provisions of law protecting employees of the State printing plant as to prevailing wages. The subcommittee has continued the prevailing wage law now in effect.

Furthermore, the bill as it was submitted to us was so drafted as to appear less desirable than the existing law and seemingly would have served neither the interests of State employees, the State, nor anyone. If the bill as first submitted to us had become the law, we are of the opinion it would have proved far more unworkable, ambiguous, and indefinite than the existing law.

These defects vitally affected all State employees and were capable of working many injustices and inequities. Contrasted with this is the fact that there was not one provision in the act which gave to the State employees any protection that they do not now have under present law.

The major questions of policy with respect to Assembly Bill No. 1392 were called to the attention of the subcommittee by representatives of constitutional officers, courts, and interested State departments. As these objections grew and various specific amendments were suggested the subcommittee felt that the only possible method of making a workable statute out of Assembly Bill No. 1392 was to turn the entire bill over to an expert for suggested drafting and changes; to advise the committee as to the best method of harmonizing the various views, properly vesting in the State Personnel Board its due powers of administration, correcting injustices which have occurred under the existing act, limiting litigation which has severely affected the best interests of the State, and thus serve the purpose of sound legislative policy. Upon recommendation of several constitutional and State officers or their representatives, the committee selected Norris J. Burke, a Sacramento attorney, who for several years was chief deputy in the Legislative Counsel Bureau, to advise with the subcommittee and to redraft the bill in accordance with the subcommittee's instructions. It has required approximately 100 amendments and two weeks constant application to redraft Assembly Bill No. 1392 into what the subcommittee believes would be good legislation, but the subcommittee's opinion is that the bill as redrafted will result in a more efficient system of civil service than that now existing.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

A disastrous forest fire occurred in November, 1933, completely denuding approximately seven square miles of the mountainous watershed above the towns of La Crescenta, Montrose and La Canada, in Los Angeles County, thereby permitting boulders, debris and dirt to wash down upon the populous communities lying below said watershed. The immediate construction of debris dams at the mouths of various canyons below said burned-over watershed and the construction of channels below said debris basins are necessary in order to protect the lives of persons living in said communities and to protect the homes and other property from destruction.

There are surplus funds in the treasury of the county of Los Angeles not required for the immediate necessities of such county and which are available for investment in securities acceptable for such purpose, and said funds can be utilized immediately for the purpose of aiding in the prompt construction of said work.

The Greater Budget.

Our Father, the Creator of all material and spiritual things, we thank Thee, for the abundant provision Thou hast made for human needs. Thy budget is ever generous and complete. As we provide the means for governmental expenditures, wilt Thou supply those other resources that come not from man?

We provide for schools but we look to Thee for the building of character. Add honesty to our arithmetic. We provide for the many activities of government, all dedicated to the public good, but from Thee must come that spirit of unselfish loyalty and dedicated leadership which alone can make our State great and secure.

With faithful hearts, as best we may, we remember the poor, the sick and distressed, and those in prison, but from Thee and Thee alone, O God of Mercy, must come that patience, understanding, and love for others which can make our charity worth the name. Add to our cold figures the warmth of Thy divine spirit.

As we provide the budget for things material wilt Thou add Thy greater budget of things spiritual, that success may crown our days, and that permanence and blessing be added to our efforts?

For Thy kingdom's sake, we pray. Amen.

Case of Urgency.Recommendation of the Governor.

In accordance with section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 2433.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 9, 1935.

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate,
State of California, Sacramento, California.*

GREETINGS: Assembly Bill No. 2433—An act to provide for the administration of highway work for or in cooperation with the United States by the State of California, amending the Streets and Highways Code in accordance therewith, and declaring the urgency thereof.

In my opinion said Assembly Bill No. 2433 constitutes such a bill within the meaning of that term as used in section 34, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

I therefore authorize the consideration of this bill as such a measure.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 16. This act is declared to be an urgency measure deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and as such it shall take effect immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency:

The Congress of the United States has enacted the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 in which provision is made for the apportionment of the sum of eight hundred million dollars among the several States and Territories of the United States to be expended by the State highway departments thereof for emergency construction of public streets and highways, including grade crossing separations, for the purpose of furnishing employment to those in relief. Under the provisions of this Federal legislation a large sum of money will be apportioned to the State of California, to be expended for such purposes by the Department of Public Works. Many persons are on relief in the State of California by reason of the existing economic depression which has produced widespread unemployment, disorganization of industry, and lowering of the standards of living of many of the people of California. It is of paramount importance that useful employment be furnished to those many persons on public relief who are ready and willing to work, thus restoring their self-confidence and self-respect and alleviating the discontent and unrest occasioned by want. It is necessary that this act become effective at once in order that the State of California may meet the terms of said Federal legislation, and the rules and regulations of the President and other officers of the government of the United States thereunder, so that the program proposed by the Congress can be put into effect immediately in the State of California.

The following message from the Assembly was received and read

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, JUNE 1, 1935

MR. PRESIDENT: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Assembly returns to your honorable body Assembly Bill No. 1462 as amended. This bill was duly amended and the amendments were attached to the bill, which procedure meets the requirements of the Constitution. This bill has been properly amended and printed. It is impossible to follow any procedure to secure the action necessary on bills at this time of the session. This action has been carried on for many years by the Assembly as well as the Senate. The Assembly suggests that the Constitution will not be violated and that the Legislature will be able to proceed more rapidly with its business.

ARTHUR A. OHNIMUS, Chief Clerk.
By FRED J. DESCH, Assistant Clerk.

Assembly Bill No. 1462 read first time, and referred to Committee on Labor and Capital.

Communication.

Opinion of Legislative Counsel.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, JUNE 4, 1935.

Hon. George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Subject: Return of Bills to Assembly for Failure to Print.
Request No. 4219

DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD: You ask for our opinion as to the propriety of sending a bill back to the Assembly for printing when the same was sent to the Senate without its being printed as amended before final passage.

In our opinion this procedure is proper under the authority of section 15 of Article IV of the Constitution which provides:

"* * * Nor shall any bill be upon its final passage until the same, with the amendments thereto, shall have been printed for the use of the members; * * *

In the Assembly Journal of 1909 at page 891, a point of order was raised that an amended bill was not on the members' desks and therefore could not be considered. It was ruled that the point of order was well taken, and further consideration of the bill was postponed until the bill could be printed as finally amended.

Again in the Assembly Journal of 1917 at page 539, a point of order was raised during the consideration of a bill that the engrossed copy of the bill was not before the members and that further consideration of the bill could not be had. The Speaker ruled that the point of order was well taken and further consideration of the bill was postponed.

It would appear, therefore, that if the members of one house are entitled to have the printed bill before them before considering the same, the members of the other house should have the same opportunity to have before them the printed bill as last amended before any action is taken thereon.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.
By SIDNEY L. LIPSITCH, Assistant Counsel.

Communication.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, June 4, 1935.

Honorable George J. Hatfield, Lieutenant Governor of California, Senate Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

DEAR GOVERNOR HATFIELD: A question has arisen in respect to which it would seem desirable that the Legislature indicate a policy in respect to a certain phase of the work of this office.

We refer to the situation which arises when this office is called upon by a member of the Legislature to express an opinion as to the constitutionality or legal effect of another member's bill.

Several members have recently suggested that in such a case the author of the bill should be put on notice by this office either by furnishing him a copy of the opinion or by volunteering to him our opinion upon the subject or by notifying him that a question has been raised in respect to the bill, stating the nature of the question.

The thought prompting that suggestion to us is that this office serves all the members of the Legislature and that it would be only fair that the author of the bill be put upon notice in such a case.

We have not felt that it would be proper for us to take the initiative in such a matter, particularly in view of that provision of section 3 of the act creating this office which reads as follows:

"Neither the Legislative Counsel nor any other employee of the bureau shall reveal to any person outside thereof the contents or nature of any matter which has not become a public record, except with the consent of the person bringing such matter before the bureau."

Another provision of the same statute authorizes the Legislature to order when and the extent to which the confidential character of such matters may be modified.

Pursuant to the latter provision the Legislature in 1933 (by S.C.R. No. 10, Statutes of 1933, page 2858) adopted a rule requiring this office to keep a record of requests made for the preparation of bills, constitutional amendments and resolutions, such record to be open to the inspection of any member of the Legislature, but not open to inspection by any other person, and declaring that information concerning any such bill, constitutional amendment or resolution, other than as set forth in such record shall not be given out by this office except with consent of the author of the request.

We are not expressing any views as to the desirability or undesirability of a change of policy in this regard, but feel that we should bring the matter to your attention for such consideration as the Senate and Assembly may wish to give it.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

For the Folks at Home.

Oh Thou, Who hath called us to be Thy children, hear the prayer of our hearts this morning.

We beseech Thee to be round about our friends and kinfolk from whom we are separated during these busy days of our Legislature.

May Thy blessing be upon all those who are near and dear to us.

We pray for our children, that they be saved from all harm; for our aged loved ones—may they find clear skies at eventide; for our life companions in the home. Hold them in the safe-keeping of Thy Divine love.

For our friends, and kinfolk, both near and far, we seek Thy blessing. As Thou remember us, we also remember them, in our thoughts and prayers.

And grant, oh Lord, without neglect of duty here, that we may soon be with these circles of friends and loved ones again.

In Thy name we pray. Amen.

Remarks.

The following remarks, offered by Senator McGovern, were ordered printed in the Journal:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE: The resolution now on the Secretary's desk, which was adopted, unanimously, by the Assembly, calls our attention to the fact that last Sunday, June 2, was the first anniversary of the untimely taking off of the beloved Governor of our State, the Honorable James Rolph, Jr.

Even in the midst of the very important business that is now engaging the attention of this Senate, it is suitable and proper that we should pause in respectful contemplation of the life and deeds of that distinguished son of California, who was mayor of his native city of San Francisco for eighteen years, and who, as a fitting reward for a distinguished public service, was called to the Chief Magistracy of this great State, in the general election of 1930.

Following the disastrous fire of 1906, which laid low the great metropolis of San Francisco, the people of that stricken city realized that the stupendous work of reconstruction must be done under the civic leadership of some man of ability, integrity and industry.

Then it was that the people of the city of Saint Francis turned for leadership to James Rolph, Jr., who was known to them by the loving term of "Sunny Jim." After an interesting political campaign, Rolph was elected mayor of San Francisco, whereupon he began the great constructive program that has written his name in imperishable words in the romantic story of his native city.

Many streets, schools, tunnels, street railways, libraries, auditoriums and other civic enterprises, including the world famous Hetch Hetchy municipal water system, as well as our world famous city hall, were created during the administration and under the supervision of the man whose memory we pause to honor at this time.

While hundreds of millions of dollars of the public's money were expended during the long administration, as mayor, of James Rolph, Jr., the finger of suspicion was never pointed at him or at any one in his immediate official family. His record was one of achievement. To us he became the great builder of the city of our dreams. He gave the best that he had to his fellow townsmen who knew him best and loved him most.

No true San Franciscan, regardless of race, or creed or politics, will ever deny that James Rolph, Jr., is the favorite child of the city by the Golden Gate. His life is interwoven with our greatest accomplishments. The life of James Rolph, Jr., is one of the bright and glorious chapters in the history of San Francisco.

When Governor Rolph was elected to head the government of the State of California, our country had just sustained the great economic cataclysm of October, 1929. The full force of the depression had not yet reached this coast when Rolph was inaugurated Governor of this State. Immediately following his induction into office, we began to realize that we were faced with the greatest financial crisis that ever affected America. Old standards were broken down, old rules of commercial and industrial development were rendered impotent and the great system which brought America to the height of its commercial glory was unable effectually to withstand the forces that were working for its impairment.

The leading financiers and industrial leaders of California and of America urged that it was the duty of all governmental agencies to encourage confidence in private industry by continuing to operate government in a normal manner, without curtailment of expenditures. The philosophy behind that proposal was that the business depression was but a temporary panic such as had occurred before, at regular intervals, in our country—that it was only a symptom of our abnormal growth—and that it would the sooner disappear were our different branches of government to point the way to recovery by continuing to function by normal expenditure of governmental funds.

No responsible voice was heard to dispute that idea. Governor Rolph attempted to carry out the studied and considered opinion of the best minds of the State and Nation. When he did so he received the applause and acclaim of all who pretended to know or understand the problems that confronted us.

As time went on it became apparent that the depression was of wider extent than we had supposed. It became necessary to change the practices of government as it became necessary to change the practices of private business. Unfortunately, many of those who acclaimed the policy of Governor Rolph in the beginning were heard to complain when they learned that he, and they, had guessed wrong.

Nevertheless, every person who came in contact with James Rolph, Jr., during the time that he was Governor of this State, learned to appreciate the splendid human qualities that made him a man among men. His great heart and his deep human sympathy were understood and recognized. His kind disposition toward all, his sincere concern in the welfare of his friends and acquaintances, his unselfish devotion to the duties of his office and his intense love for California marked him as one of the great Governors of this great State.

I am sure that when the history of this commonwealth is written that the achievements of Governor Rolph will receive the approval of all who take the pains to learn the facts.

He faced the issues of his office with a fearlessness and courage that are not common in public life. If he erred, and being human, he must have done that, he erred on the side of humanity. His mistakes, if any, are mistakes of the head and not of the heart.

I know that I express the sentiments of all the gentlemen of this Senate when I say that the memory of James Rolph, Jr., brings to our minds and to our hearts mingled feelings of fond remembrances, of happy thoughts and of sincere regret at his taking off.

Mr. President, I move that the resolution on the desk of the Secretary, which refers to the first anniversary of the death of our late Governor, be adopted, unanimously, by a standing vote of this body, and, furthermore, that when we adjourn today we do so out of respect to the memory of the late Governor James Rolph, Jr.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 63.

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, an amendment to the Constitution of said State by amending section 22 of Article XII of the Constitution of said State, relating to the creation and powers of the Public Service Commission.

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California at its regular session commencing on the seventh day of January, 1935, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said Legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California, that section 22 of Article XII of the Constitution of said State be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 22. There is hereby created a Public Service Commission which shall consist of five members and which shall be known as the Public Service Commission of the State of California. The commission shall be appointed by the Governor from the State at large; provided, that the Legislature, in its discretion, may divide the State into districts for the purpose of such appointments, said districts to be as nearly equal in population as practicable; and provided further, that the commissioners in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall serve out the term for which they were appointed. Whenever a vacancy in the office of commissioner shall occur, the Governor shall forthwith appoint a qualified person to fill the same for the unexpired term. Commissioners appointed for regular terms shall, at the beginning of the term for which they are appointed, and those appointed to fill vacancies, shall, immediately upon their appointment, enter upon the duties of their offices. The Legislature shall fix the salaries of the commissioners, but pending such action the salaries of the commissioners, their officers and employees shall remain as now fixed by law. The Legislature shall have the power, by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to each house, to remove any one or more of said commissioners from office for dereliction of duty or corruption or incompetency. All of said commissioners shall be qualified electors of this State, and no person in the employ of or holding any official relation to any person, firm or corporation, which said person, firm or corporation is subject to regulation by said Public Service Commission and no persons owning stock or bonds of any such corporation or who is in any manner pecuniarily interested therein, shall be appointed to or hold the office of Public Service Commissioner. No vacancy in the commission shall impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission. The act of a majority of the commissioners when in session as a board shall be deemed to be the act of the commission; but any investigation, inquiry or hearing which the commission has power to undertake or to hold may be undertaken or held by or before any commissioner designated for the purpose by the commission, and every order made by a commissioner so designated, pursuant to such inquiry, investigation or hearing, when approved or confirmed by the commission and ordered filed in its office, shall be deemed to be the order of the commission.

Said commission shall have the power to establish rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight by railroads and other transportation companies, and no railroad or other transportation company shall charge or demand or collect or receive a greater or less or different compensation for such transportation of passengers or freight, or for any service in connection therewith, between the points named in any tariff of rates, established by said commission, than the rates, fares and charges which are specified in such tariff. The commission shall have the further power to examine books, records and papers of all railroad and other transportation companies; to hear and determine complaints against railroad and other transportation companies; to issue subpoenas and all necessary process and send for persons and papers; and the commission and each of the commissioners shall have the power to administer oaths, take testimony and punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record. The commission may prescribe a uniform system of accounts to be kept by all railroad and other transportation companies.

No provision of this Constitution shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority of the Legislature to confer upon the Public Service Commission additional powers of the same kind or different from those conferred herein which are not inconsistent with the powers conferred upon the Public Service Commission in this Constitution, and the authority of the Legislature to confer such additional powers is expressly declared to be plenary and unlimited by any provision of this Constitution.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to repeal in whole or in part any existing law not inconsistent herewith, and whenever in this Constitution or the laws of this State the term "Railroad Commission" is used, it shall be understood to refer to the Public Service Commission.

Remarks.

The following remarks, offered by Senator Slater, were ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate:

May I be permitted to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that 100 years ago, on June 24, 1835, General M. G. Vallejo established the city of Sonoma under orders issued by Governor Figueroa. This month, therefore, commemorates the centennial of the place in which much of the colorful early history of the State of California was cradled. Possibly no place in our great State holds more interest and significance by reason of this fact.

Many dramatic incidents in the early history of California are chronicled in the pages depicting Sonoma and the entrance of this State into the Union of States and marking the inauguration of the declaration of principles of government upon which our State was founded.

The history, romance and chivalry of early days are inseparably interwoven in the story of Sonoma and the far-famed Sonoma Valley and which can never be forgotten. Volumes have been written in portraying the outstanding incidents involving the founding of the city of Sonoma. The advent of the first health anniversary of the laying out of the famous old city is certainly worthy of more than a passing tribute. It is a small token, indeed, to suggest that the Senate Journal of this day record a reference to the fact that on June 24, 1835, one of California's most interesting and historical spots was officially established. It is for this purpose I direct your attention at this time.

It is also especially interesting to recount that the man who was entrusted a century ago with the laying out of the city of Sonoma, General Vallejo, a great and good citizen and a native son of the State he so loyally served, was a member of the State Senate of California, representing Sonoma County in the first session 1849-1850, the district I love so well and which I have been honored to represent in this body for so many years. He was also a member of the Constitutional Convention which drafted the first Constitution of this State. History records that General Vallejo was one of the most generous of men, courteous and always hospitable to the pioneers who in the days of the gold rush and in subsequent years came to California to establish their homes. His name is greatly revered in Sonoma and in the old Sonoma Valley which he loved so well. It was there his eyes beheld its familiar surroundings as the last earthly sunset closed in upon him and he embarked upon life's greatest adventure.

I need not review the many historic shrines to be found in Sonoma and in the Sonoma Valley. The old home of General Vallejo is still intact. The beautiful old mansion and its picturesque gardens are now a State monument owned and preserved by the State of California. Nearby is the famous Sonoma Plaza upon which the State of California many years since erected a striking monument in imperishable granite and bronze marking the spot where the "Bear Flag of the California Republic" was first flung to the breeze on June 14, 1846. Across the way from the plaza stands the Mission San Francisco Solano de Sonoma, the last mission in the chain along El Camino Real stretching from San Diego to Sonoma, much an outstanding tribute to the padres who founded the temples of early day worship and civilization.

In and about Sonoma are many significant pointers to early day history and pioneers of California, too numerous to mention. The Native Sons of the Golden West have performed a fine work in marking many of these places with appropriate reminders of those who dwelt and participated in the passing of California into the Union of States.

I am glad of this opportunity to call your attention to the Book of Memories and to the page which reveals the intelligence that, on June 24, 1835, a century ago, the city of Sonoma was established and to the important part played by the late General Vallejo on that eventful day and to the broad generous spirit he always maintained towards the State he loved so well. Some day we hope the State of California will foster the erecting of a monument to General Vallejo in the historic plaza in old Sonoma as its continuing tribute to his memory.

Bill read third time.

The question being on the passage of the bill.

The roll was called, and Assembly Bill No. 2448 passed by the following vote:

AYES—Senators Biggar, Crittenden, Deuel, Difani, Duval, Edwards, Fletcher, Garrison, Gordon, Hays, Jespersen, Keough, King, Knowland, McCormack, McGovern, McGuinness, Metzger, Mixer, Parkman, Rich, Schottky, Sharkey, Slater, Snyder, Stow, Tickle, Wagy, and Young—29.

Assembly Bill No. 2448 ordered transmitted to the Assembly.

Assembly Bill No. 384—An act for the relief of special assessment districts and for the adjustment, refunding or cancellation of the bonded indebtedness of such districts, and for the purpose of empowering legislative bodies of such districts to adjust, refund or cancel said indebtedness and to make available to such districts the provisions of the Federal bankruptcy laws and any and all laws of the State of California for the relief of special assessment districts, and to declare the urgency of this act to take effect immediately.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 5. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

During the fifteen years last past hundreds of districts have been organized throughout the State of California under the provisions of the Road District Improvement Act of 1907 and the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925. Many of these districts were created during times of great economic prosperity and high land values. In many of such districts, due to the optimism of the times, or other causes, bonds for public improvements were issued in amounts in excess of the ability of the lands of such districts to bear the assessments necessary to pay the principal and interest on such bonds. Millions of dollars in assessed land valuation are located within districts created under these acts. Due to the present economic depression land values throughout the State have shrunk to the point where, in many cases, the total assessed valuation of all lands within a given district is less than the face value of the bonds outstanding in such district. Annual assessments upon individual parcels of land within these districts amount in many instances to more than the assessed value of such land.

Under present economic conditions property owners are unable to meet these high assessments and hundreds of such districts throughout the State have reached a point of hopeless delinquency.

Inasmuch as the property owners of these districts can not, under the law, pay their county or municipal taxes without at the same time paying the district assessments many cities and counties are unable to collect large sums of money badly needed for the purposes of government.

Many hundreds of properties in these districts are being devoted to the State for delinquent taxes and assessments and unless the financial aid of the counties is immediately made available to assist these overburdened districts thousands of parcels of lands will be stricken from the tax rolls this year; thousands of property owners will lose their homes, millions of dollars in governmental revenue will be uncollectible and at the same time thousands of bondholders will be unable to realize any return upon their investments.

Communication.

Opinion of Legislative Counsel.

The following communication from the Legislative Counsel was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, June 5, 1935.

Hon. W. P. Rich, Senate Chamber,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Subject: Senate Bill No. 919.

DEAR SENATOR: You ask whether or not this bill in its present form, as amended June 4, 1935, contains more than one item of appropriation. In this regard you direct particular attention to section 37 of the bill, which states that moneys collected as license fees and moneys collected under the excise tax provisions of the act are to be deposited in the State treasury to the credit of a special fund known as the alcohol beverage control fund, and then allocates the moneys in said fund to various uses.

In our opinion this bill does not contain more than one item of appropriation and therefore does not violate the provisions of section 34 of Article IV or any other provision of the State Constitution in that regard.

We base this opinion upon the ruling of our Third District Court of Appeal in Ryan vs. Riley, 65 Cal. App. 184, a case construing and similarly interpreting the provisions of the California Vehicle Act, relative to license fees collected under that act paid into a special fund in the State treasury and allocated to various uses. In this connection it should be noted that an application for hearing by the Supreme Court after the decision of the District Court of Appeal in Ryan vs. Riley was refused.

Yours very truly,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

Communication.

Opinion of Legislative Counsel.

The following communication, referring to Assembly Bill No. 1182, was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, JUNE 6, 1935

*Hon. Will R. Sharkey,
Senate Chamber, State Capitol,
Sacramento, California.*

Subject: Amendments to Assembly Bill No. 1182.

MY DEAR SENATOR: You ask us to the validity of an amendment proposed to this bill to incorporate in section 51 thereof a clause making available not exceeding $10,000 for expenditure by the Department of Finance in making systems and expenditures resulting from the provisions of the act, the same to be payable out of the personal income tax fund.

Particularly the question is whether or not this amendment, if adopted, will make the bill one which contains more than one item of appropriation. In my opinion such will not be the result, the proposed amendment being but a provision allocating a portion of the moneys in the "Personal income tax fund" for expenditures furthering out the purposes of the act and does not constitute a separate item of appropriation.

This opinion is based upon the decision in Ray v. Ray, 95 Cal. App. 181.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.

Bill ordered to print, and on file for third reading.

Amendments from the Floor.

During third reading of Assembly Bill No. 2136, the following amendments, offered by Senator Olson, were read:

Amendment No. 1.

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended, strike out lines 1 to 13, inclusive; and strike out all of pages 2 to 10, inclusive; and on page 11, strike out lines 1 to 49, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SECTION 1. A large proportion of the real property in this State is held subject to mortgage or deed of trust or under contract of purchase, and many owners and purchasers thereof are finding it extremely difficult or impossible, because of present economic conditions, to meet their obligations to retain their property. Prices for farm products are at present so low and unemployment in industry and business is so widespread, that farmers and wage earners, and those who do business with them, have as a class lost a considerable part of their income, and large numbers of such individuals have no income or scarcely enough for food and other necessities.

The value to the State of a large body of owners of land is inestimable, as such owners have a vital interest in the State and its welfare, and participate in governmental affairs to such an extent and in such a way that they constitute an essential factor in the political and economic life of the State.

If steps are not taken immediately to permit delay of foreclosures and sales under mortgages, deeds of trust, and contracts of purchase, and forfeitures and terminations under contracts of purchase, a large number of owners of real property will be forced to abandon their interests in their property.

An emergency therefore exists, and it is necessary to provide for the permitting of delays of foreclosures and sales under mortgages, deeds of trust, and contracts of purchase, or of forfeitures and terminations under contracts of purchase. The following provisions are intended to prevent such delays and to safeguard the interests of creditors who will be affected thereby.

Sec. 2. Until thirty days from and after the effective date of this act, no sale shall be held (a) under any deed of trust upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property, (b) under any power of sale conferred by a mortgage upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property, or (c) under any decree of foreclosure of any mortgage or deed of trust upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property; and no decree of foreclosure of a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property shall be entered nor shall the interest of any purchaser under a contract of purchase of real property or upon chattels attached to real property be foreclosed, terminated or defeated and in the event the period of redemption upon any mortgage or deed of trust upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property heretofore foreclosed or about to be foreclosed is extended so as not to expire prior to thirty days from and after the effective date of this act.

Sec. 3. At any time within thirty days from and after the effective date of this act, or within thirty days from and after the recording of the notice of default under section 2924 of the Civil Code, or at any time before sale has been made on or after than February 1, 1937, the trustor under any deed of trust upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property, or the mortgagee under any mortgage upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property concerning the same or sale, may file a petition in the superior court of the county in which such real property or upon chattels attached to real property or the trustee under such deed of trust or the mortgagee under such mortgage, as the case may be, in the manner provided by law for the issuance of summons in a civil action, and a notice of pendency of such petition shall immediately be recorded in each county in which any of such property is situated. Such notice of pendency shall state the name of the petitioner and the nature of the petition, and the book and page of the records of the county recorder in which the mortgage or deed of trust is recorded.

Upon application of the petitioner after service of such petition, or upon application of any other party in interest after the filing of the petition, a hearing shall be had thereon within twenty days after such application, upon such terms as the court prescribes. After the filing of such petition and the recording of the notice of pendency thereof as provided in this act, no sale shall be held under such deed of trust or under the power of sale conferred by such mortgage until the court makes its order in the matter.

Upon such hearing the court may make its order, if it finds equitable grounds for relief, ordering that the sale shall not be held until on or after such date as the court considers just and equitable, but in no event later than February 1, 1937. If the court orders the sale postponed it shall determine the reasonable value of the income from such property, or if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of such property, or if the property is unimproved, a reasonable sum to be paid by the trustor or mortgagor as determined by the court, and shall require the trustor or mortgagor to pay all or at least a reasonable part of such income, rental value, or sum so determined by the court, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, or principal of the indebtedness at such times and in such manner determined to be just and equitable under the circumstances.

In no event shall the court order the payment of a lesser sum than that necessary to pay (a) current taxes, (b) all delinquent taxes, except that such taxes may be paid in installments as may be provided by law, and (c) any insurance premiums required to be paid by the debtor under the contract between the parties. The court must include in such order provisions requiring maintenance and repair, regulating the disposition of any income from the property, and such other provisions as it deems just and equitable for the protection of the security.

Sec. 4. In any decree hereafter rendered, prior to February 1, 1937, foreclosing a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property, the court may provide that the sale of the property shall not be held until on or after such date as the court considers just and equitable, but in no event later than February 1, 1937. If the court provides in such decree that the sale shall not be held until on or after such date as it shall fix, it shall determine the reasonable value of the income from such property, or if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of such property, or if the property is unimproved, a reasonable sum to be paid by the trustor or mortgagor as determined by the court, and shall require the trustor or mortgagor to pay all or at least a reasonable part of such income, rental value, or sum so determined by the court, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, or principal of the indebtedness at such times and in such manner determined to be just and equitable under the circumstances.

In no event shall the court order the payment of a lesser sum than that necessary to pay (a) current taxes, (b) all delinquent taxes, except that such taxes may be paid in installments as may be provided by law, and (c) any insurance premiums required to be paid by the debtor under the contract between the parties. The court must include in such order provisions requiring maintenance and repair, regulating the disposition of any income from the property, and such other provisions as it deems just and equitable for the protection of the security.

SEC. 4a. Where any mortgage or trust deed upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property has been foreclosed and the period of redemption has not yet expired, the period of redemption may be extended for such additional time as the court may deem just and equitable, but in no event beyond February 1, 1937: provided that the mortgagor, trustor or owner in possession of said property shall, prior to the expiration of the period of redemption, apply to the superior court having jurisdiction of the matter, on not less than ten days' written notice to the mortgagee or trustee, or the attorney of either, as the case may be, for an order determining the reasonable value of the income on said property, or, if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of the property involved in such sale, and directing and requiring such mortgagor, trustor or owner in possession, to pay all or a reasonable part of such income or rental value, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, mortgage or trust deed indebtedness at such times and in such manner as shall be fixed and determined and ordered by the court.

In no event shall the court order the payment of a lesser sum than that necessary to pay (a) current taxes, (b) all delinquent taxes, except that such taxes may be paid in installments as may be provided by law, and (c) any insurance premiums required to be paid by the debtor under the contract between the parties.

The court shall thereupon hear said application and after such hearing shall make and file its order directing the payment by such mortgagor, trustor or owner in possession, of such an amount at such times and in such manner as to the court shall, under all the circumstances, appear just and equitable. Provided that upon the service of the notice or demand aforesaid that the running of the period of redemption shall be tolled until the court shall make its order upon such application.

SEC. 5. The purchaser of any real property under any contract of purchase may at any time within thirty days after the effective date of this act, or at any time prior to the foreclosure, termination, or forfeiture of his interest under such contract, but in no event later than February 1, 1937, file a petition in the superior court of the county in which such real property or chattels attached to real property, or the major portion thereof, is situated for an order postponing the foreclosure, termination, or forfeiture of his interest thereunder. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the vendor, and notice of pendency of such petition shall be recorded, and a hearing shall be held at the same time and in the same manner as is provided in section 3 of this act in respect to petitions in relation to sales under deeds of trust and mortgages conferring a power of sale.

SEC. 6. Upon the petition of any party in interest prior to the time to which the postponement was made, and after notice and hearing as in the case of a petition for postponement, the court may alter or supplement its order or decree of postponement upon the presentation of evidence that the provisions of the order or decree require alteration or supplementing to make them just and reasonable.

If the trustor, mortgagor or purchaser commits waste or defaults in any payment or act required by the order or decree of the court, the court may order that the sale, foreclosure, termination or forfeiture postponed by the original order or decree, proceed as provided by law if it finds after hearing upon such notice to the applicant or his attorney as it prescribes, that there has been such waste or such default, amounting to a material breach of the order or decree of postponement.

SEC. 7. No suit or action shall be commenced against the guarantor of any note secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property or upon chattels attached to real property in any case while by virtue of any law no sale may be made under any power of sale contained in such mortgage or deed of trust, or while no sale may be made under the final decree of foreclosure rendered in an action to foreclose such mortgage.

SEC. 8. Whenever the time within which an action may be commenced upon any obligation founded upon a written instrument secured by mortgage, deed of trust or contract of purchase of real property or upon chattels attached to real property, would expire by virtue of section 337 of the Code of Civil Procedure during the period of postponement ordered pursuant to the provisions of this act, such time is hereby extended to the extent of such period of postponement.

SEC. 9. Nothing contained in this act shall apply to or be deemed to affect (a) any mortgage, deed of trust or contract of sale upon real property executed after the effective date of this act, or (b) any mortgage or deed of trust securing the payment of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness authorized or permitted to be issued by the Commissioner of Corporations or made by public utilities subject to the provisions of the Public Utilities Act.

SEC. 10. As used in this act:

(a) The terms "mortgagor," "mortgagee," "trustor," "trustee," "purchaser," "vendor," and "guarantor," shall include their personal representatives, assigns or successors in interest, and the singular shall include the plural.

(b) The term "trustee" shall also include the beneficiary of a deed of trust.

(c) As used in this act the term "chattels attached to real property," or similar designation, includes anything which is deemed affixed or attached to land, or as forming part of the land, or which is used in connection with the customary operation of such land.

SEC. 11. Nothing contained in this act precludes any transfer under a deed of trust or any mortgage under a mortgage or any purchaser under a contract for the purchase of real property or chattels attached to real property from executing and delivering at any time a grant deed to his beneficiary, mortgagee or vendee, as the case may be, and the execution and delivery of any such deed by any such trustee, mortgagor or purchaser shall constitute a waiver of the benefit of all the provisions of this act. The failure on the part of any trustee, mortgagor or purchaser to file a petition within the times specified in this act, shall be deemed a waiver of the benefit of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 12. Any sale of real property or chattels attached to real property under a deed of trust or mortgage made in violation of this act shall be voidable, except as against a bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer for value, at the instance of the record owner of such real property at the time of such sale, provided that any action to avoid such sale or any deed executed pursuant thereto must be brought within one year of the date of such sale.

SEC. 13. There shall be no filing fees for the filing of any document with the county clerk under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 14. No receiver shall be appointed at the instance of the mortgagee of any mortgage or the trustee or beneficiary of any deed of trust, or the holder of a contract for the purchase of real property, with respect to real property or chattels attached to real property subject to mortgage, deed of trust, or contract of purchase, until the time has expired for filing a petition under this act, or until the time permitted by law to make answer to any action to foreclose any such mortgage or deed of trust has expired, or in the event such a petition or answer is filed within the time permitted by law therefor, then not until the court has heard the matter and in the event, pursuant to such a petition or its answer, or to any such action, a judgment is granted, then not as long as such judgment remains in effect.

None of the provisions of this section shall preclude the court from appointing a receiver after ten days notice in writing of hearing of application therefor served upon the owner, mortgagor or trustee of his property at issue. And at which hearing the court shall find that grounds do not exist for the extension of any relief under the provisions of this act.

In no event shall the court order the payment by the trustee or mortgagee of a lesser sum than the greater of (1) the amount of such reasonable portion of the income, or such reasonable rental value or such reasonable sum so determined by the court, or (2) a sum sufficient to pay (a) current taxes, (b) all delinquent taxes, except that such taxes may be paid in installments as provided by law, and (c) a sum reasonably necessary for fire and other insurance upon any improvement upon such property.

If any feature or application of this act is finally determined by the courts to be unconstitutional, such feature or application shall no longer apply, but all other features and applications shall continue in full force and effect, it being the intent of the Legislature to make this act as effective as possible to relieve debtors in the manner herein provided.

SEC. 18. Whenever any petition under this act is to be or is being heard by the court, the interested parties may submit to the court in writing a composition of the indebtedness involved in the proceeding, or a compromise settlement of the proceeding, and the court shall have jurisdiction and may by its order confirm and approve such composition or settlement."

Resolution.

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Metzger:

Relative to Senate Bill No. 2796 in the Congress of the United States.

WHEREAS, The University of California has for many years had splendid cooperation from the James Mills Orchards Corporation, Hamilton City, California, in relation to several important agricultural research problems, including study for the control of pear blight, mottle leaf of citrus, prune dieback, citrus chlorosis and has furnished facilities and finance for much of this work; and

WHEREAS, This is a large property, well and scientifically managed and affords splendid facilities for many studies under actual ranch conditions; and

WHEREAS, It also offers an unusually good opportunity for many of our students to gain actual farm experience through work during the summer; and

WHEREAS, The corporation still stands ready to continue its cooperation with the university in similar studies involving deciduous fruit, citrus fruits, grain, sheep, hogs and cattle; and

WHEREAS, Senate Bill No. 2796 in the Congress of the United States as at present drawn, would result in dissolution of Mills Orchard Corporation holdings thus terminating abruptly cooperative relationships with the university with great loss to the university's educational and research work and to the agricultural and horticultural interests of the Sacramento Valley; now, therefore, in order to preserve this splendid cooperation and assistance the university has long received from this corporation; be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Senate of the State of California, respectfully urges the Congress of the United States to consider the following amendment to Senate Bill No. 2796: "Insert on page 17 between lines 11 and 12 a new subsection as follows:

(d) no provision of this act shall apply to or be deemed to include any holding company to the extent that such holding company owns the securities of a subsidiary company.

(1) now owning and operating farm land and engaged solely in agriculture and/or horticultural undertakings and which

(2) in connection with any State subdivision or educational institution thereof is carrying on experimental or development work for the improvement of the agriculture or horticulture of such State and disseminating information relative thereto; provided, always that no funds of the holding company shall be paid, loaned, or advanced to such subsidiary other than funds available for dividends on the common stock of such holding company; and any such agricultural or horticultural subsidiary company is hereby exempted from the obligation, duty and/or liabilities imposed upon persons as such subsidiary company under any provision or provisions of this title."

and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate is directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States and to each Senator and member of the House of Representatives from California in the Congress of the United States, and that such Senators and members of the House of Representatives are hereby respectfully urged to support such legislation.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Metzger, adopted.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 23. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately.

The facts constituting such urgency are as follows: Numerous acquisition and improvement districts have been created in the State of California under the provisions of said Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925 and landowners owning properties located therein are in dire distress financially. The lands therein have become greatly in arrears in the payment of taxes and assessments and consequently the bonds of such districts are and have been delinquent for a considerable period of time. The great bulk of the property within such districts is subject to tax and assessment liens of various kinds for delinquent taxes and assessments. Previous refunding acts adopted by the Legislature have been declared invalid by the Supreme Court of the State of California and unless extraordinary means are provided for the returning of such lands and properties to the tax rolls, on a tax paying basis, it will be impossible for the landowners to pay their taxes and assessments and save their respective properties in such districts. The collection of taxes for general city and county governmental purposes within such districts has been, and is being, seriously and adversely affected and governmental agencies have been, are being, and will continue to be, deprived of necessary revenues which are urgently and immediately required in order to perform governmental services and functions. The great bulk of the property owned by said owners within such districts will shortly be deeded to the State and lost to the owners thereof, and danger to life, health and property now exists and will continue to increase.

This act is also necessary to accomplish the clearing of the titles to lands and properties located within such districts, to secure the payment of taxes, tolls and charges, to permit the landowners to retain possession of their lands and to continue to occupy, use and develop the same, and thereby to prevent the destruction of life, health and property.

Bill read second time and ordered to third reading.

Bill read third time.

Urgency Clause.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1, Article IV, of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

Many of the public corporations and districts of the State have been the recipients of or are now applicants for loans or grants of money from the United States of America, or from the duly constituted corporations or agencies thereof, to be used for the purpose of financing in whole or in part public works on behalf of such public corporations or districts. The immediate emergency produced by unemployment within the State cannot be met excepting by encouraging and carrying on a program of public works within the State by which considerable numbers of the unemployed may find gainful employment.

The lending of funds or the grants of moneys and credit to the public corporations of this State by the Federal Government, or by the duly constituted agencies or public corporations of the Federal Government, is now conditioned and may hereafter be conditioned upon certain Federal laws and regulations imposed as a condition or prerequisite to the making of such loan or granting of such aid to the public corporations of the State.

It is necessary that every encouragement be accorded by the State to the public corporations and districts of the State whereby such Federal loans may be effected, or grants of aid made to them so that they may engage in public works which otherwise could not be financed. The general condition of unemployment throughout the State which now exists and for a long period of time prior hereto has existed, is resulting in distress to the people and is making necessary the granting of relief to them by the public agencies of the State. To decrease the said condition of unemployment of the people of the State will result in lessening the burden upon government of providing relief for them.

Unless the public corporations and districts of the State are immediately permitted by the State to comply with the regulations imposed by the Federal Government, the moneys which otherwise would be available for the doing of public work upon which the people may be employed, will not be available.

Urgency clause read.

The question being on the adoption of the urgency clause.

The roll was called, and the urgency clause adopted by the following vote:

AYES—Senators Biggar, Crittenden, Dencl, Difani, Duval, Fletcher, Garrison, Gordon, Hays, Jespersen, Keough, King, Knowland, McColl, McCormack, McGuinness, Metzger, Mixer, Perry, Pierovich, Rich, Schottky, Scollan, Seawell, Slater, Snyder, Stow, Wagy, and Williams—29.

Prayer.

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Newton E. Moats:

For Slow Haste.

Jesus, Savior, pilot us over life's tempestuous sea. Oh, Thou who calms the ocean wild, give us calmness here.

Help us to relax under tension. In the midst of confusion, give us poise. May we be deliberate as we hurry. We would make haste slowly, and keep our heads while those about us are losing theirs.

May the third reading file mean that we have already thought twice. If we must pass many bills, may they all be good bills, and in discussing them, may we express ourselves fully, but with a minimum of words. If possible, give us strength to work 20 hours a day, yet keep physically fresh, mentally alert, and nervously balanced.

As we labor in these last hours, give us Thy divine encouragement, that we may finish well.

In Thy name we pray. Amen.
